COLE FIELD HOUSE DEDICATION

n December 1955, Maryland's new arena was regarded as the finest athletics facility on the East Coast. Evidence of that claim rests in its history as the site of eight ■ NCAA Regionals and two Final Fours. The host of a historic national championship game in 1966 and another in 1970. Cole Field House bears distinction as the nation's only on-campus facility to host more than one NCAA Final Four tournament.

In 2001-02, the Maryland Terrapins will conduct their 47th and final season at the fabled arena, where a compact bowl of 14,500 seats has provided a booming and boisterous backdrop to nearly a half-century of some of the finest college basketball in the country. Since 1994, Cole Field House has been the scene for eight consecutive seasons of sellout crowds, as the Terrapins have risen among the country's most elite programs.

The William P. Cole Jr. Student Activities Building, as it is formally known, has become a fixture for campus and community events, and has touched nearly every life that has ventured through the University's College Park campus since 1955

As a sports venue, Cole has been home to a dozen men's basketball All-Americans and host to some of the greatest teams and games in college basketball history When college basketball was achieving its most expansive growth, from the late 1950s to the 1970s, there was but one gymnasium on the East Coast that sat as many as 12,000 fans.

There was not a bad seat on Dec. 2, 1955 when it was dedicated during a win against Virginia, and there is not a better place to watch a game today

On the horizon, though, is another building to retake Maryland's place as having the finest and most modern facility in the country The Comcast Center will open its doors for the 2002-03 athletic season less than one mile from Cole Field House

In an effort to honor its past while looking ahead to its future at the more spacious Comcast Center, the Terrapin basketball staff dedicates its 2001-02 media guide to the memories and traditions of 46 past seasons at Cole.

Maryland opens the 2001-02 season as a consensus Top 5 pick. The Terps enter the year ranked as high as No. Loy College Insider conf. and

No. Zby numerous

2001 NCAA

Maryland is one of just nine schools to participate in each of the last eight consecutive NCAA Tournaments.

Gary Williams and the Terps have established the current era as the best in Maryland history. The Terps' 78 wins since the 1999 campaign reflect their best three-year stretch in history. The best four-year stretch is their 99 wins since 1998. The best five-year stretch is their 120 wins since 1997.

Maryland won 10 of its last 12 games in 2001, beating top-seeded Stanford for the NCAA West Region title and besting eventual NCAA champ Duke at Cameron Indoor Stadium. Maryland's only losses in the streak were to Duke.

Maryland closed the 2001 campaign with its highest final ranking in history: No. 4 by USA Today/ESPN.

Maryland is one of only six Division I schools to win at least 25 games in each of the last three seasons.

TERRAPINTRADITIONS

Honoring Our Past and Celebrating Our Future

n 2001-02, the University of Maryland celebrates its 47th and final basketball season at venerable Cole Field House. Cole has become a legend, both locally and nationally, and is regarded as one of the landmark basketball arenas in the United States.

Though just as Cole supplanted Ritchie Coliseum as the university's chief venue for indoor sports and other special events in 1955, Cole Field House will give way to the Comcast Center in the fall of 2002.

Maryland has achieved a remarkable sports history throughout most of the 20th century, with All-Americans and championships filling the halls of each of its three previous activities buildings. As Maryland participates in its final season at Cole Field House, traditions are rekindled as the Terps honor their history from the old Gymnasium, to Ritchie, to Cole; and celebrate their future with next year's move to the Comcast Center.

The Gymnasium (1923-31)

Following a Thanksgiving Day fire in 1912 which destroyed several dormitories and campus buildings including its gym, varsity sports teams were without a home facility until "The Gymnasium" was constructed prior to the 1923-24 basketball season. The court inside Annapolis Hall was later known as Ritchie Gymnasium, and was home to Terrapin boxing and basketball competitions for eight seasons, through 1930-31 when the Old Liners were the Southern Conference champions.

Annapolis Hall was the home of the Terps' first All-America basketball player, Louis "Bosey" Berger, whose 19.1-point scoring average in 1931 led the league. The Terps were 10-2 on the Annapolis Hall hardwood in 1931. The Old Liners were unbeaten in 11 games at home in 1928.

Ritchie Coliseum (1931-55)

Dedicated on Jan. 20, 1932 during a varsity basketball game against Navy, Ritchie Coliseum was the original fieldhouse built on the Maryland campus. The 1,500-seat multi-purpose facility housed the Maryland basketball, boxing and wrestling teams during stints prior to its renovation in 1997.

Ritchie was the home to Maryland basketball for 24 seasons from 1931-32 to 1954-55, and helped usher the Terps into the modern era. Former team captain and later coach H. Burton Shipley guided the Terrapins for the first 16 seasons at Ritchie, including a 1932 squad which finished 9-1 for a share of the Southern Conference regular season championship. Ritchie was the Terps' first home for action in the Atlantic Coast Conference, which began in 1953-54.

Comcast Center (Fall 2002)

Maryland's new student activities building and home of Maryland Athletics will be complete in fall 2002. The Comcast Center will provide a seating capacity of 17,100 fans for basketball, and will serve as a campus site for university special events and select community events.

hanced study atmosphere for the school's nearly-700 student-athletes on 25 teams, and an additional 1,500-seat gym will serve as home to the Terps' volleyball, gymnastics and wrestling teams.

The new arena will be an excellent place for alumni and fans to enjoy their favorite sports and share their common Terrapin spirit. Visitors will learn about the men and women who have made Maryland Athletics great as they stroll through the dramatic Terrapin Walk of Fame and History. And the Terrapin Team Store, located just off the soaring three-level atrium lobby, will allow visitors to outfit their pride. Maryland will once again reclaim the status of having the best student activities center and athletics home in the country.

Cole Field House (1955-2002)

Its official name is the "William P. Cole Jr. Student Activities Building." That's the name that can be read on the structure that sits between the tennis courts and the university's student union, on the main thoroughfare of the campus of the University of Maryland, College Park.

Of course, everyone just calls it "Cole." Like Kentucky, where the Wildcats play at "Rupp." Or in Westwood, where UCLA plays at "Pauley."

The building is Cole Field House, even though that description appears nowhere officially.

Only in a building like Cole, where history has routinely been made, can one feel the echo of tradition, and experience — even in an empty Cole — the electricity generated by buzzer-beaters and a thousand slam dunks.

Simply put, Cole Field House has played a substantial role in college basketball history:

- Cole remains the nation's only on-campus arena to play host to multiple Final Fours;
- Twice it has hosted the NCAA Final Four (1966 & 1970), and it has been the site for six NCAA regional tournaments. Twice it has hosted the opening rounds of the NCAA Tournament;
- Over the years as the Atlantic Coast Conference has grown in stature as the pre-eminent college basketball conference in the country, Cole has seen its share of memorable games and storied players;

- In 1965, Bill Bradley scored 41 points in the NCAA East Region championship game as Princeton topped Providence, 109-69.
- Besides the all-black starting five of Texas Western taking the floor against Kentucky in the national championship game of 1966, Cole was also home to the first black basketball players in the ACC Maryland's Billy Jones (1966-68) and Pete Johnson (1967-69).
- Upstart Richmond upset No. 2 seed Syracuse in the first round of the 1991 NCAA tournament, 73-69.
- In 1975, Cole was the site of the first women's basket-ball game ever to be televised, and on Jan. 15, 1992, No. 3 Maryland hosted No. 2 Virginia in a women's basketball shootout before a sellout crowd of 14,500. The game still stands as the ACC attendance mark for a women's game.

When college basketball was achieving its most expansive growth, from the late 1950s to the 1970s, there was one gymnasium on the East Coast that sat as many as 12,000 fans. Cole Field House epitomized the new bigtime, main-event status of college basketball, the sport of network television and emerging legends.

There was not a bad seat on Dec. 2, 1955 when it was dedicated in a game against Virginia, and there is not a better place to watch a game today.

"It's one of the great places to watch a college basketball game," said current Maryland coach Gary Williams, who ought to know as well as anyone. Williams played at Cole for four years, then coached in a graduate capacity, and now has returned to begin his 13th season as his alma mater's head coach. As a college junior, he attended the 1966 national title game and watched as a fan.

Few buildings share the Cole mystique, and few arenas have proven quite so dangerous — for opposing teams, that is. Since back in the early '70s, when Lefty Driesell got the "Amen" choof then-No. 1 South Carolina in his second season in College Park. In 1979, the Terps came from behind in the final seconds to knock off top-ranked Notre Dame on national television in another memorable upset. This list goes on and on. UCLA in 1982, Virginia in '83, and Carolina in '95 and again in 1998. All were No. 1 when they arrived at Cole, but were knocked off by the Terrapins and the homecourt advantage the building and the fans afforded them.

Though some of those victories might have been surprises, you could hardly call them flukes. The Terps have posted winning records in 40 of the 46 seasons they ve played at Cole, and fans with season tickets have seen the Terps lose more than they've won in College Park only once since the 1969-70 season. Of course, most of those years, the Terps have done far better than just break even in College Park. In seasons under Williams since 1989-90, the Terps have won at least 10 games at home 11 times in his 12 seasons. Thanks to the heroics of All-America center Joe Smith, the Terps went undefeated at home (16-0) during the 1994-95 season, the third time in history that had happened.

Overall, Maryland is 471-151 at Cole, including a 39-5 record at home over the past three seasons.

Appropriately, the Terps opened their 1955-56 season with a victory over neighboring rival Virginia in the building's dedication game. A crowd of some 9,000 came out to see what kind of field house could be built with $3.3 million in those days. In the building's early years, capacity was only about 12.000, because there were no seats on the floor, below the railings which ring the court.

Nowadays, capacity is listed as 14,500, although that doesn't include the 96 courtside seats installed before the 1993-94 season. The largest recorded crowd (15,827) was on hand for the Maryland-North Carolina overtime thriller in 1972. But more than that may have witnessed the Virginia game in March of 1974, which marked the final home game for distinguished seniors for McMillen and Len Elmore. Every seat in the place was filled, and thousands more lined the concourse a couple of rows deep or simply sat in the aisles to witness the grand send-off. The fire marshal must have been on vacation. Or maybe he was there at the game.

rus going, top-ranked teams have found Cole Field House a particularly unfriendly place. Driesell served notice that Maryland would prove an ungracious host during his tenure with an upset game, which pitted Kentucky against underdog Texas Western (now Texas El Paso), is probably the most famous. And, the most historically significant. In that game, the upstart Texas team, which featured an all-black starting five, knocked off all-white Kentucky, the New York Yankees of college basketball. The result forced the southern colleges to recruit and sign black players, lest they lose their competitive advantage, and did away with segregation in the sport.

Cole also hosted the 1970 Final Four, which saw UCLA crowned as champion for the fourth year in a row in what would turn out to be a run of seven straight national titles

Situated on the state's flagship university campus and an important part of the Baltimore-Washington area's sports landscape, the William P. Cole Jr. Student Activities Building — as it formally is known — has also served as the site for the state boys' basketball tournament. It bears distinction as the site of one of the biggest high school games ever played, when DeMatha High School from nearby Hyattsville played host to New York's Power Memorial and Lew Alcindor, now Kareem Abdul-Jabbar.

Back in 1965, Morgan Wootten was gaining national attention for his winning program at DeMatha, just south of the Maryland campus along Route 1."To be the best," Wootten always said,"you had to beat the best," which is why he scheduled a game against Alcindor's Power Memorial of New York City. After practicing in the week leading up to the game against a defender holding a tennis racquet to approximate Alcindor's wingspan, DeMatha stunned Power with a 46-43 victory. It was the only loss of the future Hall of Famer's high school career.

For a time, Cole served as the site for the Capital Classic high school all-star basketball game each spring, and the Capital Bullets, who later became the Washington Wizards, played their NBA games at Cole while waiting for the completion of the Capital Centre back in the early 1970s.

In its time, Cole Field House has been much more than just another on-campus college basketball arena, hosting annual graduation ceremonies and other special events, concerts and campus gatherings for nearly a half-century.

- It has been home to Maryland boxing, men's and women's basketball, gymnastics, indoor track, swimming, volleyball and wrestling teams:
- In 1972, the United States and the Peoples Republic of China staged a ping pong match before a packed house at Cole, in what was the first sporting event held between the two nations:
- It has hosted U.S. presidents, and in September 1974, even Elvis:
- · NCAA wrestling championships were hosted at Cole in 1960, 1972, 1978, 1987 and 1990;
- · The NCAA women's volleyball championship was conducted at Cole in 1990.

It has touched the lives of most anyone on the Maryland campus since 1955. Ask any Terrapin fan or player though, and they'll probably agree, that its role as a basketball showplace is the role it has played best.

SEASONPREVIEW

uffice to say, the 2000-01 University of Maryland men's basketball season was a great one: 25 wins for a third straight season, a trip to the first Final Four in school history, a school-record eighth straight NCAA Tournament appearance and an eighth consecutive upper-division finish in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Simply stated, Maryland and 13th-year coach Gary Williams are poised for another run at the NCAA Final Four and a potential national championship.

The Terrapins ended their 2001 run by winning 10 of their last 12 games, beating top-seeded Stanford for the NCAA West Region title and matching their highest postseason ranking in history, No. 4 by USA Today/ESPN. Momentum, hunger, senior leadership, versatility, balance and a remarkable work ethic by the team's brightest stars have this year's team perched with one, single goal — to win the first national championship in school history.

Said Williams in the months following his school's first Final four berth and looking ahead to next season,"'es, I like our team. You never know for sure, but I think we've got the character that will allow us to get back to the Final Four and not affect our preparation for the upcoming season."

Looming is a highly-anticipated 2002 sequel which features four returning starters, and seven of the team's top nine scorers. The Terps boast what will widely be considered the most exciting backcourt in the country, paired with what last season was called the deepest and most balanced frontcourt in the nation.

"To be able to have Chris Wilcox, Tahj Holden, and Drew Nicholas — who were key players in our drive to the Final Four last year — certainly gives us depth, with experience, that is important early in the year," said Williams. "The good thing about the newer players, and watching how they fit into things, is that there is no immediate need for our new guys to play great right away. The pressure is for them to get to a place where they can contribute to the team, but there is no demand like there was on a Steve Blake to come in and start when he was a freshman. It is good for our program that we are in that situation this year."

The Terps seem to possess every ingredient necessary for another run late into March. But what might set Maryland apart from most teams with similar components is the work ethic and fearless style of play typified by its most glowing stars.

Together, Maryland's inside-outside tandem of Lonny Baxter and Juan Dixon may form the most hard-working and best thunder and lightning combo in the country. Baxter, the agile 6-8.260-pound center who bruises opponents to the tune of 15.6 points and 7.9 rebounds per game; and Dixon, whose expert timing and quickness on both ends of the floor have produced record numbers in points and steals.

Neither was touted by analysts as a prep All-American or future pro when they were evaluated by Terrapin coaches three years ago out of local high schools. However, both have now earned All-America billing and have pro careers in their futures.

Baxter was the Most Outstanding Player at last year's NCAA West Regional while dismantling Georgetown and Stanford with a combined 50 points and 20 rebounds in those two games. [Who said those teams were more physical than the Terps?] Dixon, a 3-point shooter and slasher, scored double figures in all but two games last season and had steals in all but one, en route to third team All-America honors. Baxter plays with thunderous authority around the basket; Dixon dazzles with lightning-quick speed all over the floor. Both are rated among the best at their positions.

Guard

Analysts profess each season that championships are won by teams with the best point guards. That, too, places Maryland among the elite, with one of the nation's most productive yet unheralded point guards guiding the Maryland attack. Already a two-year starter, junior Steve Blake enters hit did college season well on his way to the Terrapin career record for assists, and within reach of the top assist-makers in ACC and MCAA history (Hurley, Corciani, Cota are 1-2-3 on both lists). With two college seasons to play, Blake is on target to become just the fourth player ever to record 1,000 assists. Enough said.

Quick, daring, crafty and steadily getting stronger, Blake has shown a knack for rising to the occasion. His best games last season were at Duke (11 assists, 11 points) and against Duke in the ACC Tournament (11 assists, eight rebounds). A late 3-pointer against the Blue Devils tied the score with 8.1 seconds remaining in the ACC semifinal. He repeatedly lifted the Terps with timely second-half scoring, including all 10 of his points in a pivotal road win at Wake Forest; and 10 straight points in the waning minutes of a narrow non-league win at Penn.

What's more, Blake improved his scoring average throughout a sophomore season which culminated with averages of 6.9 points and an ACC-leading 6.9 assists. He became the first Terrapin since John Lucas to lead the ACC in assists, and his 9.4point average throughout the NCAA Tournament was third on the team.

If it is Blake that makes the Terps go, it is returning senior and All-American Juan Dixon that makes them go higher and faster. And quicker. And longer.

Since his entry into the Maryland starting lineup two years ago as a sophomore, Dixon has wowed his critics, fans and college basketball experts with his multitude of talents and constantly fearless play. He has led the Terps with an 18-point scoring average in each of the past two seasons and this year could become the only Maryland player besides Lucas ever to earn three consecutive first team All-ACC citations.

The explosive-scoring two quard has exceeded 30 points on five occasions in the last two years, and has routinely netted

College basketball analysts from across the country have tabbed Dixon as one of the most lethal scoring threats in the country. Difficult to defend and constantly challenging his opponents, Dixon scores with an array of 3-pointers, slashing jumpers and penetration moves against bigger defenders. Also a deft passer and a scrappy cutter without the ball, Dixon is an allthe-time threat to produce scoring in one fashion or another.

Oh, yeah, and he's the Terps' best perimeter defender, also. With each of his first team All-ACC honors the past two years, Dixon has also racked ACC All-Defense honors as the league's leader in steals. Gifted with exceptional endurance and characterized by his relentless effort, Dixon attacks on both ends of the court like few others in the college game.

In Dixon and Blake, few schools can boast such an allaround one-two punch on the perimeter. Maryland, though, is unlike most other schools in the nation. Backing both players is a third-year star who might start at most schools - junior Drew Nicholas.

Nicholas was one of the Terps' unsung heroes during their run to the Final Four last season. A 6-3 guard whose natural skills place him most comfortably in a perimeter scoring role, Nicholas was asked by Maryland coaches to sharpen his skills as a ballhandler and learn the task of backing Blake at the point. With the addition of 6-6 shooting guard and swingman Byron Mouton to the lineup last season, Nicholas' successful transition allowed Williams the flexibility to operate a four-guard rotation during which the Terrapins never missed a beat.

Similar to Dixon in his 3-point shooting prowess and the ability to score off the drive, Nicholas frequently was Maryland's first or second player off the bench, aiding Blake and then spelling either Dixon or Mouton. The lanky performer averaged 6.6 points and 2.4 assists while averaging over 16 minutes per game last season. He has not missed a game during his first two college seasons, and he already is climbing among the school's 3point leaders as he enters his junior campaign.

And then there is freshman Andre Collins, the rookie of the Terps' guard rotation in 2001-02 who is hoped will provide additional quickness and a second pure point guard. The 5-9 fireball boasted 15.6 points and eight assists per game at Hargrave Military Academy while helping his club to a 27-1 record. In his final two seasons at Crisfield (Md.) High School, Collins averaged 29 and 30 points as a junior and senior, respec-

Completing the Terrapins' backcourt contingent are returners Earl Badu and Calvin McCall, both who saw limited action in 2001.

Forward

Versatility and the ability to create matchup problems may be the Terrapins' strong suit when it comes to its forward slots. Yes, Terence Morris has moved onto the NBA, but the Terps' stable of forwards returns ready to duplicate its depth of last season.

Returning as a starter at one forward is Mouton, whose flair for the dramatic might be his most visible trait. But beyond his animation on the floor, the senior provides Maryland with an athletic, explosive scorer who slashes opposite Dixon and rebounds well on the offensive glass. Mouton shot a remarkable 50 percent from the floor last season, with most of his scoring coming on an array of leaning, off-balance jumpers. Two years after transferring from Tulane, Mouton bulled his way into the Terps' starting lineup after four games last season, and earned all-tournament honors at the BB&T Classic in his first two starts.

Nicholas is versatile enough to play the 1, 2 or 3 spots on the floor, and freshman Mike Grinnon is expected to ease into his role as a perimeter shooting specialist. Both can fill shooting roles from the "3" position in a small lineup, and spell Mouton during stretches, but it is at the power position where Maryland is most versatile.

Junior Tahj Holden and sophomore Chris Wilcox, both 6-10 and athletic, will roam the interior alongside Lonny Baxter and JC transfer Ryan Randle to again give Maryland four athletic big men to patrol the paint. Both Holden and Wilcox can play the post, as well, and given varying lineups, any two or three of the big-man quartet may be on the floor at the same

Holden is the most experienced of the power forwards, and joined Baxter and Dixon during summer 2001 while playing with Team USA at the World University Games. Holden also is a productive 3-point shooter, shooting nearly 50 percent out of 44 attempts over the last two seasons, making him a viable scoring threat both inside and out. After missing nine games to injury last season, Holden returned to action in mid-January and immediately commanded a physical presence, prompting Williams' postgame comment, "He certainly makes us a little more nasty out there, doesn't he?"

Holden scored in double figures in four games last season — 14 at home against Duke, 10 against the Devils in the ACC semifinals, 10 in the Sweet Sixteen against Georgetown and 14 against Stanford in the West Region final. What's more, his career rebounding high (7) also came against Duke. He played his highest quality minutes in Maryland's biggest games.

Wilcox could be the most physically-gifted player on the Terrapins' roster. As a freshman, he averaged 8.6 minutes per game as he blended with a deep interior lineup, and frequently excited Cole Field House audiences with spectacular dunks. The task for Wilcox in 2001-02 is to more sharply hone his skills at both ends of the floor, while earning increased minutes and working in and out of the lineup with Holden, or in the post.

Center

In the post, Baxter is a difficult load to contain, on either end of the floor. Unheralded out of high school and undersized by most standards as a prototype center, he has steadily earned his position among the nation's best with a blue-collar, workmanlike approach.

Against NCAA Tournament competition, Baxter has posted double-double efforts in five of his last seven games. He became the first player in Maryland history to earn merit as the MVP of an NCAA regional by mastering the supposedly "bigger and stronger" front lines of Georgetown and Stanford. He bulled his way to All-ACC honors for a second straight season in 2001, and looks to ioin Dixon as a three-time All-ACC recipient.

Though thickly muscled and obviously physical, the big man possesses remarkably quick feet and still is able to maneuver past most larger opponents, scoring most of his points with an assortment of offensive moves under and around most taller defenders.

Last season, Baxter was backed either by departed senior Mike Mardesich, or Holden or Wilcox. Holden and Wilcox both remain in a rotation at the "S" position, but Randle, built very similar to Baxter, will share the assignment.

Randle led Duncanville (Texas) High School to a state championship before attending Allegany CC the last two seasons, and last year helped the Trojans to a runner-up finish at the National Junior College Championships. He was an all-conference pick and, at 6-9, can also shoot from outside, lending still more flexibility to Williams' lineup choices.

Season & Schedule

In the course of one season, very little has changed for the Terrapins. And yes, a lot has changed depending on one's perspective. Maryland returns almost its entire lineup intact from last year's national title contender, thus expecting the same shot at a title run in 2002.

Preseason expectations were lofty last season also, with a No. S AP preseason ranking, but oh, what a trip to the Final Four will do for credibility.

Where last season the Terps were bidding to earn national respect by moving past the Sweet Sixteen, which had been a road-block in each of their last seven NCAA appearances, this year Maryland knows that it will be the target of every other hopeful, aiming to knock off one of the previous season's final four.

"When you do get to the Final Four," said Williams, "you are setting yourself up because every team you play the next year wants to beat a Final Four team. We have been in that role the past couple of seasons in our league. There is extra motivation to play Maryland this year, so we have to make sure we understand that. On the other side of the coin, we are returning four starters that are very important players to us, which will give us an edge, especially early in the season by playing teams that lost more players. We have to take advantage of that edge."

Maryland tips off the regular season as part of the Coaches vs. Cancer IKON Classic at Madison Square Garden, pitting itself against Arizona, Florida and Temple, all national contenders themselves.

The schedule will get no easier for Maryland, which has annually seen its schedule ranked among the country's toughest. Though the Terps boast the nation's longest non-conference homecourt win streak at 77 games, it will be tested early with a

Nov. 27 date against defending Big Ten champ Illinois. One week later, the Terps co-host the annual BB&T Classic including George Washington, first round foe Princeton and Connecticut.

By the time the dust settles after the opening month of play, Maryland could well have faced four Top 20 teams. And that's before traveling to Oklahoma in mid-December and reaching a challenging ACC schedule, which last year featured weekly Top 20 contests with five schools nationally ranked all season.

Maryland's history continues into the 2001-02 season, as it rides the momentum of one of its most prosperous stretches ever. The Gary Williams Era has produced more wins in the last five years than in any similar span of Terrapin history. The Terps boast a glorious past and are riding a glorious present. With the completion of its new Comcast Center arena just one season away and with continued hopes of returning to the Final Four, Maryland has visions of nothing but a glorious future.

GARY WILLIAMS

Head Coach (Maryland '68) 13th Year at Maryland (242-139, .635) 24th Year Overall (449-267, .627)

For Williams, the accomplishments of 2000-01 were particularly sweet for the coach whose roots with the program extend to his playing days of the late 1960s, and whose earliest seasons as head coach were tormented by NCAA sanctions he inherited. The Final Four architect is himself a Maryland alum, who found glory for a program whose history is filled with a literal plethora of some of the most prominent names in college basketball annals. Shue, Lucas, Elmore, McMillen, Albert King, Bias, Buck Williams and Walt Williams.

Last March, Williams became just the sixth coach since 1980 to direct his alma mater to the Final Four.

program has run parallel with Williams' ascent among the most notable in the collegiate coaching fraternity. Williams is one of seven coaches to boast a string of eight consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament. He is one of just six to reach the NCAA's Sweet Sixteen in five of the last eight years. He joins Lute Olson, Tubby Smith and Roy Williams as the only coaches on both lists. Olson, Smith and Gary Williams are the only coaches among that quartet to claim a trip to the Final Four during that

Similarly, he joins just four coaches — Mike Krzyzewski, Tom Izzo, Mike Montgomery and Bob Huggins — who have led their programs to 25 or more wins in each of the past three seasons.

As the Maryland coach, Williams has produced more than 20 wins in six of his last seven seasons, five consecutive. Williams is the 27th-winningest active coach in America with 449 wins.

Williams, 242-139 at Maryland, boasts a 449-267 overall record which includes four years at American (1979-82), four at Boston College (1983-86) and three at Ohio State (1987-89). In 23 seasons as a Division I head coach, Williams has coached in 11 NCAA Tournaments and guided seven different teams to the NCAA Sweet 16. One of 26 coaches ever to take three different schools to the NCAA Tournament, Williams has guided teams to the NIT or NCAA Tournament at each of his four coaching stops.

He is the only coach in America to direct programs in each of the ACC, Big Ten and Big East conferences. During Williams' combined 19 years in those three conferences, the national champion has come from his league seven times (ACC — 4 of 12; Big East — 2 of 4; Big Ten — 1 of 3).

During his run of eight straight NCAA tournaments at Maryland, he has forged his way to becoming the winningest NCAA Tournament coach in Maryland history with 13 wins and eight losses. He boasts a 17-11 record overall, and has carried Maryland to the Sweet Sixteen in three of the past four years.

Williams is one of six 400-win coaches who now engineer the programs at their respective alma maters (Jerry Tarkanian, Fresno State; Lou Henson, New Mexico State; Eddie Sutton, Oklahoma State; Jim Boeheim, Syracuse; Gale Catlett, West Virginia). Since 1980, only Boeheim, Sutton, Lou Carnesecca (St. John's), Guy Lewis (Houston) and Richard Williams (Mississippi State) have joined the Maryland mentor in guiding their respective alma maters as far as the national

semifinals

Terp Alum

A former Terrapins

point guard, Williams was a starter under coach Bud Millikan during the 1965, 1966 and 1967 seasons. He was the team captain as a senior and still lists one of his most memorable basketball moments as his experience as a spectator at the 1966 national championship game conducted at Maryland's legendary Cole Field House, between Texas Western and Kentucky.

The former student-athlete is also noted as one of just eight former ACC basketball players ever to return to the league as a head coach. Williams notched his 400th career win with a season-opening victory over San Francisco on Nov. 17, 1999, and recorded his 200th victory at Maryland during a 72-66 win over No. 23 Kentucky one month later. Williams, 99-89 in ACC league contests entering the 2001-02 season, is expected to become the 10th coach overall and just the second from Maryland (Lefty Driesell) ever to reach 100 wins in the league.

Williams Era

Inducted into the University of Maryland Hall of Fame in 1999, Williams has placed his alma mater's program back among the top of the storied Atlantic Coast Conference. The Terps have become synonymous with Duke and North Carolina among the league's most dominant programs, and nationally have become a fixture among weekly polls — 36 consecutive appearances in the AP top 20 to enter the 2001-02 campaign and career-best beginning (No. 5, AP) and ending (No. 4, USA Today/ESPN) rankings during the Terps' Final Four run last season.

Under Williams' tutelage, Maryland has achieved a schoolrecord eight consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances while boasting acclaim as one of just nine schools in the country to do so. The Terrapins are one of just six schools in the country to boast at least 25 victories in each of the past three seasons, and the Terps' 78 wins in the last three years are bettered by only seven programs.

Another success story during the Williams Era at Maryland is obviously a coveted home court win streak over non-conference foes which now spans more than 11 years — 77 games in all as the Terps enter the 2001-02 campaign.

The decade of the 1990's was certainly a decade of resurgence for the Maryland basketball team. Since 1990, the Terps have soared to a level of national prominence unmatched during the first century of the program. Included among the many superior accomplishments during the Williams Era are: the school-record eight straight NCAA Tournament appearances (1994-01), a trip to the 2001 national semifinals, five Sweet 16 appearances, eight consecutive upper division finishes in the ACC including runner-up distinction in 1999 and 2000, a school-record 28 victories during the 1998-99 season, four NBA lottery picks, one national Player of the Year and one ACC Player of the Year.

Added for good measure are a NBA Co-Rookie of the Year in Steve Francis (2000), and a preseason top five ranking for the second time in three seasons. The result is a program and a coach who have reached icon status.

Williams has cemented his legacy as one of America's greatest recruiters and college coaches — a statement backed not just by last season's Final Four appearance or 19 winning records in 23 seasons, but by 23 NBA draft choices and the numerous former assistant coaches who now guide their own programs. Williams has guided seven first-round selections and five NBA lottery picks.

Williams' past three seasons have brought Maryland from contention in the Atlantic Coast Conference, to contention for a national championship.

Four years after tying for his first ACC regular season championship in 1995, Williams led Maryland to a school-record 28 victories and a school-record 13 ACC victories during the 1998-99 season. The Terps finished the season ranked No. 5 by the Associated Press — then the highest final ranking since the 1974-75 season and only the third time in school history that the program had earned a top five final national ranking. During the season, Maryland was ranked in the top five for a near-school record 14 weeks and peaked at No. 2 as it won its first 10 games of the season. Maryland's No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tournament was tied for the highest tournament seed in school history. Only four schools won more games than the Terps during the 1998-99 season.

A year later, in a 1999-00 season that may have been one of Williams' greatest coaching accomplishments ever, he guided a

"rebuilding" Terrapin team to 25 wins, a second straight secondplace finish in the ACC and its first trip to the conference tournament final since 1984. All with a freshman point quard, three first-year starters and only one senior (a non-starter) following the loss of three players to the NBA draft

Last season, of course, the Terrapins began the season with a lofty No. 5 ranking by the Associated Press and finished with the No. 4 spot by USA Today/ESPN. In between polls, the Terps butted heads within a rugged conference which included five nationally ranked teams, but found their stride late in the year to win 10 of their last 12 games. Of those 10, a record seven nationallyranked foes fell in the Terps' path to the Final Four, with their only losses coming to eventual NCAA and ACC champion Duke. Local rival Georgetown was dispatched in the Sweet Sixteen, and an 87-73 win over No. 2-ranked and top-seeded Stanford earned Maryland its first NCAA regional title.

Three times, Williams has been voted as a national coach of the year finalist, including his naming in 2001 as the Coach of the Year by Playbay. In 1998, ACC Athlete Magazine voted him as the ACC Coach of the Year. He received the same honor from Callege Haaps Illustrated in 2000. He was honored as the district coach-of-the-year in 1981 and in 1983 he was named as the Eastern Coach of the Year. Following Maryland's 1997 season, when the Terps advanced to the NCAA Tournament and finished with a 9-7 record in the ACC, he was named as the Seaboard Region Coach of the Year by Eastern Basketball,

Williams is the only head coach in school history to guide the Terps to nine postseason tournament appearances within his first 12 seasons. He is also one of two coaches in school history to direct his first two teams to winning records and to a regular season conference championship during his first six years at the  $\,$

Williams was hired on June 13, 1989. He inherited a team that had won only nine games the year before and finished in last place in the ACC. Williams displayed his coaching abilities immediately. The Terps won 19 games and advanced to the second round of the National Invitation Tournament, making Williams the first coach in school history to lead a team into the postseason in his first year. In addition, Maryland's 10-game improvement in the win column during Williams' first season was the largest in school history and second largest in the annals of the ACC by a first-year coach. Only the legendary Press Maravich, who improved NC State's winning ledger by 13 games in his inaugural season (1965), can boast a higher first-year improvement in the win column.

A 1968 graduate of Maryland, Williams lettered as the Terps' starting point guard from 1964-67 under head coach Bud Millikan. He served as team captain during his senior season. It was as a player in the ACC that Williams developed his basketball philosophy. He studied the game under Millikan, and it was then that he developed his penchant for the full-court pressure defenses for which his teams are now known. He learned his half court man-to-man defense from Millikan, who learned from the legendary Hank Iba. The fast-breaking offense that Williams' teams employ is similar to the style Vic Bubas' Duke teams used when Williams was a player.

Path To College Park

Williams began his coaching career as a graduate student at Maryland under a future boss, Tom Davis, Williams was Davis' assistant coach for the Maryland freshman team during the 1969 season. The team finished with a 12-4 record.

After earning a degree in business, he continued his coaching career as an assistant at Woodrow Wilson High School in Camden, N.J. After one year, he took over as the head coach and guided his first team to a perfect 27-0 record and the state title. Williams has called that season "the ultimate — there wasn't another game to win." Upon winning the NCAA West Region championship in 2001, he fondly recalled his championship at Camden as the "only other time I've ever got to cut down a net."

Williams spent one more year at Wilson before accepting an invitation from Davis in 1972 to become an assistant at Lafayette College. While an assistant at Lafayette, Williams also served as the head soccer coach. In 1978, Williams accompanied Davis to Boston College. After one year there, Williams became the head coach at American University.

Williams immediately began making his mark. His 1981 squad set the still-standing school record for victories with a 24-6 mark, won the East Coast Conference championship, and played in the NIT. Williams was named the district coach of the year. American returned to postseason play the next season as the Williams-led Eagles went 21-9 and played in the NIT for the second consecutive year. Only once prior to Williams' arrival had AU attended a postseason tournament, and the Eagles have not returned since. Williams' four-year record at AU was 72-42.

In 1983, Williams succeeded Davis at Boston College. He was once again an instant success, posting a 25-7 record and leading the Eagles to the regular season championship of the Big East in his first season. Making his first appearance in the NCAA Tournament, Williams directed the Eagles to the Sweet 16. He finished third in the balloting for national coach of the year, and was honored as the Eastern Coach of the Year by his peers. He went on to duplicate that NCAA Tournament success again in 1985, leading B.C. back to the Sweet 16.

In 1987, Williams accepted the head coaching job at Ohio State, becoming the 10th basketball coach in that school's illustrious history. He succeeded Eldon Miller and once again enjoyed success. In three years, the Buckeyes made three postseason appearances. His first squad defeated then-No. 1 and unbeaten Iowa (coached by Tom Davis) in the regular season, in what would be the first of many giant-killings. Each of Williams' three Ohio State teams advanced to postseason play, and he laid the groundwork for the highly successful teams that followed when he left Columbus for College Park,

The program is a partnership between the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) and the American Cancer Society. The coaches participating in this program are dedicated to fighting cancer through increased support for research, patient services, and prevention education.

Coaches vs. Cancer utilizes a Three-Point Attack that combines pledges from fans with their teams' three-point baskets made throughout the season.

DAVE DICKERSON

Assistant Coach (Maryland '90) 6th Year at Maryland

2001-02 MARYLAND BASKETBALL . COACHING STAFF

ave Dickerson's five-year tenure as an assistant coach at Maryland has coincided with five of the most successful years in the history of the program. The Terps have made five NCAA Tournament appearances, finished in the top half of the ACC five times and been ranked among the nation's top 10 each season. During Dickerson's first five years, Maryland posted a 120-49 record (.710 winning percentage).

Following Maryland's trip to the Final Four last season, Dickerson was elevated on Gary Williams' staff to take the lead in the Terrapins' recruiting efforts. He has played an integral part in Maryland's recruiting efforts during his first five seasons at his alma mater, including three classes which were ranked among the nation's best.

Overall, Dickerson's 11-year coaching career has resulted in 11 straight winning seasons and six postseason appearances.

Dickerson joined Williams' staff prior to the 1996-97 season and immediately began putting his stamp onto the program. During his first season, Maryland defeated three ranked teams and was ranked as high as No. 2 during the season. In 1997-98, the Terps advanced to the Sweet Sixteen of the NCAA Tournament, and recorded 21 victories with wins over No. 1 North Carolina and No. 2 Kansas. A year later, Maryland won a school-record 28 games, a school-record 13 ACC games and once again advanced to the NCAA's Sweet Sixteen.

Last season's accomplishments were unprecedented for Maryland as the Terps capped a 25-11 season by advancing to the first Final Four in school history.

Top Recruiter

Dickerson's success as one of the nation's top recruiters has been a major part of Maryland's accomplish ments on the court. He was instrumental in attracting the Terps 1997 and 1998 recruiting classes, both of which ranked in the top 10 nationally Maryland's 1998 recruiting class was ranked third in the nation by Clark Francis of HoopScoop Magazine. The Terps' 1999 recruiting class contained three of the nation's top players at three different positions, In 2000, Dickerson helped land Raleigh, N.C., sensation Chris Dickerson's scouting and recruiting abilities enabled Williams to gain an early evaluation of All-America guard Steve Francis. Francis was the No. 2 overall selection in the 1999 NBA Draft and finished fourth in ACC Player-of-the-Year voting.

It has been Dickerson's nationwide emergence on the recruiting trails that has allowed him to rise so quickly up the coaching ladder.

Prior to coming to Maryland, he was an assistant coach at Radford University. The recruiting classes he helped assemble at Radford were ranked among the nation's best. The 1994 season saw the Highlanders compile a 20-8 record and a school-record winning percentage of 71.4. The 20 wins are tied for the second-highest total in school history. Radford, which enjoyed winning seasons during each of his four years there, enjoyed the best four-year period in its history while Dickerson was an assistant.

It was also at Radford that Dickerson began to make his mark as a bench coach. Radford gained national acclaim and became one of the most successful programs in the Big South Conference during Dickerson's tenure. Radford defeated Louisiana State, 73-72, on Dec. 30, 1993 to gain the biggest victory in school history. The Highlanders scored the game-winning basket with 2.8 seconds remaining in the game just after LSU had taken its first lead of the second half. Dickerson was the assistant coach in charge of scouting LSU.

From Athlete To Coach

Dickerson played forward at Maryland from 1986-89 and earned four varsity letters. He was co-captain as a senior in 1989. Dickerson saw action in the 1986

In 1989, Dickerson earned his bachelor's degree in government and politics from Maryland. Soon after graduation he began his coaching career on the staff of Gardner Webb University in North Carolina. After a year at Gardner Webb he joined former Maryland head coach Lefty Driesell at James Madison for a 1992 season which culminated in a bid to the NIT.

From 1993-96, Dickerson was an assistant coach at Radford, where he began constructing his sparkling reputation under former Maryland assistant coach Ron Bradley.

A native of Olar, S.C., he earned the team award for Greatest Career Contribution in 1989 and for Most Improved Player in 1987. Dave is married to the former Ms. Laurette Newsom, a 1991 graduate of Maryland. The couple gave birth to their first child, Dave III on Oct. 19, 2000.

PATSOS

eginning his 11th season on Gary Williams' coaching staff, Jimmy Patsos has been a part of virtually every season of Williams' 13-year stint at Maryland. One of the Terps' three recruiting coaches, Patsos has seen the Terps play in eight consecutive NCAA Tournaments — which have included five Sweet Sixteen appearances and last year's trip to the Final Four. During his tenure with the Terrapins, Maryland has finished in the top half of the Atlantic Coast Conference eight times, won one ACC regular season championship and averaged nearly 20 wins per season. In addition, three players (Walt Williams in 1992, Joe Smith in 1995 and Steve Francis in 1999) have been lottery selections in the NBA Draft.

During his career at Maryland, he has coached eight NBA Draft choices including first round selections Williams, Smith, Francis and Keith Booth (Chicago Bulls, 1997).

Coach And Mentor

His role as an academic mentor during his first 10 seasons on Williams' staff has proven prosperous, as the teams' overall academic performance has improved under his guidance. He works closely with the academic support unit of the athletic department and many of the professors on campus.

Patsos joined the staff as a volunteer assistant during the 1991-92 season and immediately became an integral part of Williams' staff. His numerous responsibilities have centered on opponent scouting, on-court coaching and the academic development of Maryland's players. Patsos has been a key component of Maryland's success and its current legacy of continuity.

Prior to his appointment to Williams'staff at Maryland. Patsos was the assistant coach at Archbishop Carroll Hiah School in Washington, D.C. He helped Carroll to a 21-8 record and a national ranking of No. 6 during his first season. The team lost to the famed DeMatha Catholic High School in the city playoffs to end their stellar season. Patsos was involved in the maturation of Charles Harrison (Wake Forest) and Lawrence Moten (Syracuse), both of whom became stars on the collegiate level.

Patsos has also coordinated the public speaking engagements of the Terps' players. Each summer, Patsos has served as the director of the Gary Williams basketball camp which annually draws participants from around the world and is the showcase camp on the eastern seaboard. In his role as camp director, Patsos has coordinated counselor management, facility and participant scheduling, housing, meals and guest speakers. Attendance during the 2000 and 2001 summers have been the largest in camp history. In addition to his work with the Gary Williams camp, he is a frequent speaker at camps throughout Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylvania during the summer months.

From Boston To D.C.

Patsos was a three-year varsity letterwinner at Catholic University in Washington, D.C. During his career, the Cardinals posted a record of 51-26. Patsos played for the late Jack Bruen, who later led Colgate University to a pair of NCAA Division I Tournament appearances.

Catholic won four regular-season tourna-ment championships during Patsos' career, including the 1989 lead Catholic to the championship of the Alfred University Charity Cage Classic with a 90-88 victory over the host Sexons. The Cardinals were 18-8 during both his junior and senior years, then a school record for victories in a single season.

Patsos' teammate during the 1987 and 1988 seasons was current Catholic head coach Mike Lonergan, who has led the Cardinals to the Sweet Sixteen of the past three NCAA Division III tournaments, including a national title in 2001.

A native of Boston, Mass., who grew up attending games at the Boston Garden, Patsos earned his bachelor's degree in history from Catholic in 1989. A brother, Chris, captained the Florida Southern baseball team to the 1981 NCAA Division II World Series championship.

Director of Basketball Operations (Maryland '90)

roy Wainwright, the director of basketball operations, is in his sixth year as a member of Gary Williams' staff. He is an essential part of the success of the team, both on and off the court, and is responsible for the administration of the basketball office.

Wainwright is responsible for all internal operations of the basketball program and serves as a liaison to the athletic department including Deborah Yow, Maryland's director of athletics. He is involved in the day-to-day operations of the team, including budgetary matters, team travel, on-campus housing and dining contracts. In addition, Wainwright is responsible for non-conference scheduling and works with the conference office to coordinate the Terps' ACC schedule.

A native of Berlin, Md., Wainwright has played an integral role in the Terps' success since his arrival. The Terps have appeared in the NCAA Tournament five times, advanced to the semifinals of the ACC Tournament five times, and have averaged 24 wins during his five seasons with the Terps. In both 1998 and 1999 the Terps advanced to the Sweet Sixteen of the NCAA Tournament. In 1999, Maryland won a school-record 28 games and was ranked No. S in the nation. In 1998, the Terps played the nation's toughest schedule according to the Sagarin ratings and were ranked 15th in the final national polls. Last season, of course, the Terps advanced to their first-ever Final Four and were ranked No. 4 in final rankings by USA Today/ESPN.

Among Wainwright's chief responsibilities is the coordination of team travel plans. Wainwright coordinates all transportation (air and ground) as well as hotel accommodations. During his tenure, Wainwright has successfully coordinated travel to five NCAA Tournaments, five ACC Tournaments, Hawaii and Puerto Rico as well as every regular season game. Last season's ACC and NCAA Tournament schedules had the Terps on the road for nearly an entire month.

Wainwright is the tournament director for the annual Gary Williams golf tournament that raises money to endow scholarships for the basketball program.

The tournament has raised more than $100,000 during the five years since Wainwright's arrival. As tournament director, Wainwright helps solicit sponsorships and players, and helps with course management on the day of the event. In addition, he coordinates team and individual player scoring and a silent auction.

He also serves as the co-director of the Gary Williams basketball camp each summer. He helps coordinate virtually every aspect of the camp including housing, meals and camp speakers. The 2000 and 2001 Gary Williams camps have been the largest in its history, attracting more than 1,000 overnight campers in a threeweek period in each of the last two summers.

A Terp Returns

Wainwright received his bachelor of science degree in sociology from the University of Maryland in 1990. After graduating from Maryland he worked as an account manager with the Washington Bullets from 1992-1994 and as an advertising account executive at the Washington Times from 1994-96.

Wainwright served as head manager for the basketball team during Williams' first season at Maryland, 1990. He accompanied the Terps as they advanced to the second round of the 1990 National Invitation Tournament. He served as the team's assistant manager for the three years preceding Williams' arrival in College Park.

Commitment To Education

Two of three Maryland seniors walked through graduation ceremonies in May 2001, and the third, Terence Morris, is on track to graduate within the next year after being drafted in the second round of the NBA draft last June.

Since 1999, the Terps have had eight players complete their college eligibility. Four have graduated (LaRon Cephas, Obinna Ekezie, Matt Hahn, Mike Mardesich) and three others from the Terps' 1999 Sweet Sixteen squad — Steve Francis, Laron Profit and Terrell Stokes -- were all enrolled in classes during summer 2001 to complete their degrees.

Maryland student-athletes all work toward completion of their college degrees with the assistance of academic counselor Melvin Robinson and the Academic Support and Career Development Unit.

Francis Lends A Hand

In 1999, University of Maryland students slept in sleeping bags around the floors of Cole Field House in order to get tickets to watch Steve Francis and his Terrapin teammates play college basketball

Two years later, many of those same students were temporarily without a home following the Sept. 24, 2001, tornado that swept through the Maryland campus, but Francis was on hand to lend a helping hand.

Francis, a college All-American in 1999 and the NBA Co-Rookie of the Year in 2000, was on campus that Monday afternoon at the time the tornado ripped the College Park campus. He was on the floor at Cole Field House playing pick-up basketball with several members of the Maryland basketball team, when at 5:20 p.m. the twister roared past Cole and through the northwest quadrant of the campus.

Three days later, the Houston Rockets point guard did his part to aid in local relief efforts by offering a free meal to the approximately 700 students who reside in the University Courtyard apartments, which had been rendered as unsafe after the disaster. Residents of the Courtyards, essentially homeless for that period, were living in hotels; on cots at the Campus Recreation Center; with family; or on floors or couches belonging to other friends and students. Most of the students, juniors and seniors, were Maryland students while Francis led the Terps as high as a No. 2 ranking in 1998-99.

Francis reported to the Rockets' preseason training camp the following day.

Among the displaced students were five men's basketball players: Earl Badu, Lonny Baxter, Steve Blake, Juan Dixon and Drew Nicholas. Baxter and Blake were among the group to attend the Francis dinner, and spent time signing autographs with Francis after the meal.

Former men's basketball players are among the most devoted followers of the Maryland basketball program, and continue their involvement each year through various events including an annual alumni game and banquet during Midnight Madness festivities and an alumni golf outing with Gary Williams.

The tie that helps bind them is the presence of five coaching staff members who, themselves, were a part of the Maryland family as students: Gary Williams (1965-67), Dave Dickerson (1986-89), Troy Wainwright (1986-90), Kurtis Shultz (1992-95) and Matt

Basketball Travel

The Maryland basketball team flies charter airplanes to nearly every game on its schedule. Pictured is a SO-passenger aircraft which transports the Terps from city to city throughout the season. This regional jet features two-by-two seating with no middle seats, and is the quietest flying jet in the world. It can cruise at 530 mph and up to 41,000 feet.

Charter flights make traveling more safe, more timely and more comfortable. This type of travel allows the Terps to be on campus and in class as much as possible, and overnight stays are minimized. The convenience and comfort of charter airplane travel allows for convenient, efficient, frequent service as well as maximized practice and study

Williams on Baxter: "It is great to see Lonny - who wasn't somebody when he came out of high school that was considered to be an ACC type of player — overcome a lot of obstacles and become one of the top inside men in the country. With his experience after Obinna Ekezie went down with an Achilles tendon injury (in 1998-99), Lonny had to start three-fourth's of the way into his freshman season — which in the long run was very beneficial. He has gotten better each year and we expect him to get better this year with taking jump shots and facing the basket. You also never want to take away from Lonny what he is good at, which is his ability to catch the ball down low, take it to the basket, take a foul, and put the ball in the basket. Lonny is what basketball players used to be, which is to come in for four years and gradually become a very good basketball player. That is what Lonny has done for us."

BLAKE

Guard

Miami Lakes, Fla. (Oak Hill (Va.) Academy)

HONORSCANDIDATE

unior point guard who has played his way among the country's elite ball-handlers and playmakers . . . Maryland is 50-21 with a trip to the Final Four, with Blake as its starting point guard through his freshman and sophomore seasons . . . already boasts two of Maryland's top three seasons for assists, including a record 248 as a sophomore . . . enters his junior campaign just 185 assists shy of sists shy of Maryland's career mark of 649, held by Keith Gatlin (1984-86, 88) ... averages 6.9 points and 6.5 assists per game through his career ... reached 400 assists faster than any player in Maryland history, becoming the first sophomore to do so ... is on pace to challenge the top assist-makers in NCAA and ACC history and become just the fourth college player ever to register 1,000 assists ... needs 508 points and 535 assists to become the first player in college history with 1,000 points and 1,000 assists ... also ranks 11th in school history with 74 career 3-pointers ... starter in 69 of 71 games since arriving at Maryland as a true freshman, including 42 consecutive.

Williams on Blake: "Steve Blake has done everything you can ask any point guard to do. What he did his freshman year was just incredible, when he started immediately and we won 25 games. To come in and play the type of guards in this conference, and against Kentucky twice, and do all those things as a freshman is just great. If he didn't do that, we would not have been a very good basketball team because we did not have anybody who could play that position. Then last year, I think he had a great year in getting the ball to Juan Dixon, Lonny Baxter, Terence Morris and people that could score. He sacrificed his own game in terms of how many points he could score. Steve is smart enough, going into his junior season, in knowing that his offensive numbers will go up because not only does he know where the basketball needs to go, but when he is open, he has to shoot the basketball. He has already won some big games for us with his shooting. An example was against Penn where he didn't score a lot of points, but when they made a run at the end of the game, he was able to step up and hit three key shots that allowed us to win. It is going to be fun for him because after starting every game since he has been here, he has established himself as one of the best point quards in the nation."

2000-01: Started all 36 games of Terps' Final Four run of 2001
... Terps' floor leader who led the ACC in assists, 6.9 per game, and a school record 248 overall ... first Terrapin to lead the league in assists since John Lucas in 1974 ... assist average ranked ninth nationally ... honorable mention All-ACC, though the secondleading vote-getter among point guards ... in the NCAA Tournament, averaged 9.4 points and 6.0 assists, shot 56.7 percent (17 of 30) from the field and 50 percent (6 of 12) from 3-point range ... averaged 7.0 points and 10.0 assists in two games

inge . . . averaged 7.0 points and 10.0 assists in two games of the ACC Tournament . . . in the ACC semifinal against Duke, registered 11 assists and buried a 3-pointer with 8.1 seconds remaining to knot the score at 82 . . . had just the second double-double of his career with an 11-point, 11-assist performance in Maryland's road win at Duke . . . perhaps his best game was his 11-point, nine-assist outing against the Devils at Cole Field House . . . during that game, he limited court rival and former USA teamited court rival ri

mate Jason Williams to just 13 points, with 10 turnovers, before Blake fouled out with 1:51 in regulation
... limited Williams

to a combined 26

> point range during the last half of the season ... hit all three 3point attempts a g a i n s t Stanford in the NCAA West Region final ...

> > scored 13 points

in each of the Terps' final NCAA Tourney games against Stanford and Duke ... besides his top games against Duke, developed a knack for timely production throughout the season ... scored all 10 of his points in the second half of Maryland's late-season road win at Wake Forest ... scored 10 consecutive second half points to stave off a late Penn rally at the Palestra on Dec. 9.

II-America shooting guard among the most dynamic scor ers and all-around players in the country ... rated the nation's top 1 or 2 shooting guards by multiple preseason publications prior to leading Maryland to the Final Four in 2001 ... second-year preseason candidate for the Naismith and Wooden Player of the Year awards ... slashing scorer who creates well off the dribble and makes opportunities both for himself and for teammates ... described by teammates as "fearless" ... first Terp since Joe Smith and just the fifth overall to earn ACC first team honors in back-to-back seasons . . . can become the only Terrapin besides John Lucas (1974-76) to earn first team distinction in three consecutive seasons . . . can also become the only Terp besides Lucas ever to lead Maryland in scoring in three straight seasons . . . led Maryland with 18.0 and 18.2 points per game as a sophomore and a junior, respectively ... also led Maryland and the ACC with 2.7 and

2.6 steals, respectively, in each of those seasons can become just the fourth player in ACC history to lead the circuit in steals in three straight seasons, including Maryland's Johnny Rhodes (1994-96) ... 13th player in Maryland history to amass 1,500 points in a career . . . currently 13th among career scoring leaders, third in steals and third in 3FGs . . . enters his senior campaign 615 points shy of the Maryland

Williams on Dixon: "Well, everybody knows Juan's story by now, but what I like about Juan is that he is not satisfied. He has already won a tremendous amount of awards, but what is great is watching him score against teams whose defense is really geared to stopping him. It's just really incredible. His play in big games is great because there are some guys who can score a lot of points, but when it comes to the big games they may not want to take the big shot. Juan is the kind of player that just wants the ball in key situations against good teams. He has dramatically improved his ball handling, and he has become a very good outside shooter to complement his scoring ability as he drives to the basket. The thing I like most about Juan is that he has no fear of anybody that plays against him. He is not afraid to place himself in pressure situations. He's one of the most positive players I've coached in terms of staying with his shot and not letting slumps or setbacks get in his way. He's very resilient."

2000-01: Started all 36 games ... third team All-America selection by Bosketboll Times and the NABC ... honorable mention All-American by the Associated Press ... Williams on Holden: "When we recruited Tahj, the report was that he was a very good player but that he was kind of soft. To his credit, Tahi has become one of our strongest and toughest players. I can't say enough about him. I never saw as much criticism of a player before he even got a chance to practice by some people, and he just threw it all in their face. He is very tough, very physical, He made a big difference in our team last year when he came back from his broken foot, Without Tahi. we would not have been in the Final Four because his inside defense was key against teams like Stanford, I expect Tahi, very much like Lonny Baxter, to improve each year. As a junior, he has a great chance to be a starter for us.

He is very smart. He is one of those play-things twice to him."

BYRON MOUTON

Guard/Forward

Rayne, La. (Rayne/Tulane) 6-6 - 215 - Senior, IV

HONORSCANDIDATE

aryland senior is one of four returning starters to Maryland's Final Four squad of 2001 ... explosive scorer who worked his way into the Terps' starting lineup four games into 2000-01 ... joins teammates Lonny Baxter and Juan Dixon as 1,000-point scorers on this season's roster ... an inside scoring threat with tremendous athletic ability ... scores in bunches and plays with contagious enthusiasm ... averaged 13.5 points and 3.7 rebounds in 54 career games at Tulane, before transferring after the 1998-99 season.

Williams on Mouton: "Byron changed our team last year when he became a starter after the Maui tournament and Wisconsin game. Last year's team was interesting because we had some laid-back guys on the team, and Byron is not afraid to show his emotions. That, along with his ability as a basketball player, has really helped us. Byron is a scorre and he finds ways to score, but he also is a very tough defensive player. You need all five guys on the court who care about playing defense and that is what we had last year. Byron added to that when he came into the lineup because he was another guy who wanted to stop his man. He made his contributions on both ends of the court."

DREW NICHOLAS

Guard

Hempstead, N.Y. (Long Island Lutheran)

Williams on Nicholas: "Drew was probably as valuable, and has made as much of a contribution, as anybody in our program in the past year because we needed somebody to back up Steve Blake at the point. We didn't want to lose Drew's shooting abilities, so he really wound up playing three positions. Drew is long enough to be able to play the 3-spot, when you want to go with three quards, and he certainly handled the ball well enough in some big games when we asked him to play the point position. Even though he is still mostly a shooting guard, his ball-handling experience has made him a better basketball player. He is a good ball-handler now and he hasn't lost the ability to shoot the ball. He's become a very well-rounded player, and we're able to use him more this coming year because of that '

ne of Maryland's most athletic and most exciting players
... loves to dunk and block shots, and became a fan favorite at Cole Field House during his freshman campaign
... the sophomore talent blended with the Terps' deep interior players a year ago to make a steady, gradual impact in his first college season ... should continue to develop into a wellrounded talent, with more attention to fundamental defense and working into the Maryland offensive scheme.

Williams on Wilcox: "Everybody knows Chris dunks, and he exciting things like that. But now, Chris' next step as a sophomore is to develop his offensive game to where he can make shots out of the offense, not just follow-ups or dunks on fast breaks. He's got to be able to help us

blocks shots, and breaks. He's got to be able to neip us run the offense. And then on the defensive end, I'm not one to ask a guy to lose the ability to block shots because very few people have that, but Chris has also got to become a solid defensive player where his man doesn't beat him off the dribble. He has to be able to keep a guy from catching the ball in the post. He has to master the little things that most talented big men have to learn in college because at the high school level, they're able to play a one-man zone and just block anything that comes in there just because they're the most talented athletes. So, with Chris, that's his next step, to become a more complete offensive and defensive player."

Guard Crisfield, Md. (Crisfield/Hargrave Military) 5-9 – 180 – Freshman In ultra-quick point guard who is expected to help move the ball quickly up the floor for Maryland ... will move into the point guard rotation with Steve Blake and Drew Nicholas ... was an outstanding scorer and exciting player in high school, before participating one season at Hargrave Military Academy.

Williams on Collins: "Andre gives us a quick guard. Andre's as quick as anybody we'll play against. He has the ability to get the ball downcourt in a hurry. He is a better shooter than people think. It's going to be interesting to see how he fits in. The great thing about Andre is that I think he has the confidence in his game to be able to play right away, and you never know when there's an injury. Which, if there ever is, he becomes a very key player for us right away. Having a guy like Andre gives us a lot more flexibility. Istill want Orew Nicholas to handle the ball, I will continue to do that, but I can envision Drew, Andre and Steve Blake on the court at the same time, if we wanted to be really quick. That would make us a great ballhandling team. Andre's going to play a lot of basketball at the University of Maryland."

Hargrave Military Academy: Starting point guard for one season at Hargrave Military Academy in Chatham, Va., where Terrapin teammate Lonny Baxter played, also . . . averaged 15.6 points and 8.0 assists per game in helping lead his squad to an overall record of 27-1 . . . led the team in assists and was second in scoring . . . one of 11 players from his Hargrave team to land a Division I scholarship . . . scored 18 points, with seven rebounds and seven assists against Pfeiffer University JV . . . scored 20 or more in consecutive games against Rockingham JC (24), cullford College JV (21) and Southern Virginia College JV (21) . . . played in the Charm City Classic all-star game in Baltumore in April 2001, with fellow Maryland newcomer Michael Grinnon.

High School: Graduated in 2000 from Crisfield High School in Crisfield, Md. . . prep All-American who led his team to a 25-3 record and a Maryland 1A state title as a senior . . averaged 30.5 points, 9.9 assists, 5.1 steals and 4.9 rebounds per game on his way to earning first team all-state honors (small schools) . . selected Player of the Year on the Eastern Shore and was tabbed to play in the Capital Classic All-Star game following his senior season . . . four-year starter who totaled 2,152 points in his career, never averaging fewer than 10 points in a season . . . a first team all-state selection as a sophomore, junior and senior.

MIKE GRINNON

Forward
Huntington, N.Y.
(St. Dominic)
6-6 - 195 - Freshman

fundamentally sound shooter who the Terps expect to fill a perimeter role during his first college season . . . can play as either a small forward or shooting guard . . . called a great outside shooter who knows the game . . . also is a heady defender.

Williams on Grinnon: "Mike is one of those guys that really came on his senior year of high school. It's amazing, Juan Dixon did the same thing up in Baltimore. People rate players nowadays from the time they are freshmen in high school. And if you get on somebody." Its' early, you're going to remain on those lists for the most part through your whole career. Mike wasn't on any of those lists early, but by the time he was a senior, he was playing against guys that were on those lists and doing very well, so I think Mike is really going to surprise a lot of players. What he is known for is shooting the basketball, and nowadays that is a tremendous edge, especially with the three-point line and the fact that a lot of guys aren't really good shooters any more. If Mike can come in and shoot it, it can really help us. With the loss of Danny Miller, a guy that size that can play a little bit of guard becomes a little more important to us than if Danny was still here this year."

High School: Graduated in 2001 from St. Dominic High School in Oyster Bay, N.Y. . . . averaged 19 points per game while leading St. Dom to a No. 14 final ranking in last season's NY State Class A Poll . . . team MVP and first team all-league . . . Grinnon and the perennial Long Island powerhouse Bayhawks were ranked as high as No. 3 during the season . . . grinnon scored 21 points in the regular season finale against Holy Trinity, with a first quarter 3-pointer pushing him over the 1,000-point mark for his career . . . had 29 points including 5 of 6 from 3-point range against St. John the Baptist . . netted 25 points against Lincoln . . . had 22 points and seven rebounds, including a gametying trey at the end of regulation, in a triple-overtime thriller against St. Ray's . . . averaged 16 points and seven rebounds as a junior . . . teamed with fellow Maryland newcomer Andre Collins at the Charm City Classic in Baltimore last April, scoring four points . . . played against Ferp guard Drew Nicholas while he was in high school at Long Island Lutheran.

Personal: Michael Grinnon . . . born Dec. 18, 1982 . . . son of Hugh and Karen Grinnon . . . has two older brothers, Jonathan (25) and Thomas (22) . . . majoring in letters and sciences . . . enjoys music, golf and political science . . lists Rush Limbaugh and George W. Bush as two of the people he most admires . . . favorite athlete is Michael Jordan . . . a member of his high school's National Honor Society, student ambassadors and S.A.D.D. (Students Against Destructive Decisions).

RANDLE

Forward/Center
Duncanville, Texas
(Duncanville/Allegany CC)
6-9 - 245 - Junior

unior college recruit who helped Allegany CC to the national junior college finals ... should help re-stock Maryland's interior depth, while adding another quality shooter facing the basket ... will work into Maryland's rotation in the post ... handles the ball well, and passes well for a big man.

Williams on Randle:"We lose LaRon Cephas, Mike Mardesich and Terence Morris, so it's important that even though we have inside guys returning, we bring in another big body — and Ryan is 6-9, 245 pounds. But he also has very good skills. He can shoot the ball, he can pass, and put it on the floor a little bit. So, as with any new player, it's going to be interesting to find how he fits into the rotation. Like I said, we do have some good inside players, but if you want to go big and play three big guys at a time, Ryan certainly is talented enough to help us in that situation. It helps because he's more advanced and he's played in big games. His team played for the National Junior College Championship last year. It's also where Steve Francis went to school, and those guys come out of there as basketball players. It's funny, when a lot of guys come out of high school, they might not be as good as some the big guys you hear about, but after two years at the junior college level, they've caught up. I think Ryan is one of those guys."

At Allegany CC: Played the 1999-00 and 2000-01 seasons at Allegany CC in Cumberland, Md., where he helped lead the Trojans to the NJCAA game last season ... led Allegany to a 32-3 record and earned all-league honors in the Maryland Junior College Athletic Conference ... Allegany finished 16-1 in the MJCAA ... Allegany was ranked No. 10 in the country, topping the century mark 16 times and ranking second in the nation in scoring ... averaged 13.2 points and 7.8 rebounds per game while leading the team with 61 blocked shots ... shot near 60 percent and ranked among MJCAA leaders ... team was 28-2 as a freshman, when he averaged 10.2 points, 5.1 rebounds and led the team with 31 blocks . . . also had 43 assists and 27 steals, and shot $1.5 percent from the field . . . season-high 23 points against Harford ... helped send the Trojans to the Maryland JUCO championship with a rebound, full-court dribble and a 30-foot 3-pointer with 1.9 seconds remaining to send Allegany to a 72-71 win over Cecil ... prompted coach Bob Kirk to claim after his freshman year that Randle was "the best player on our team even though he didn't start. We've never had anyone who is as capable a player except for Steve Francis."... Francis played at Allegany during the 1998 season before competing at Maryland as a junior in

New Format For First & Second Rounds In 2002

INDIANAPDLIS---The NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee has adopted new bracketing procedures that will enable more teams to stay closer to home in the first and second rounds of the Division I Men's Basketball (hampionship.

Beginning with the 2002 championship, after the committee assigns the lop four teams in each region, it will assign those teams to first/second round sites-with an emphasis on placing them in the most geographically compatible sites, regardless of where the teams will play in the regional the following week. (For example, a team located in an eastern state that is seeded second in the west region may play its first-and second-round games at a site in the eastern part of the country, then play in the West Regional.)

The committee will place teams in the eight first/ second round sites in groups ("pods") of four (seeds 1, 16, 8, 9; seeds 4, 13, 5, 12; seeds 2, 15, 7, 10; and seeds 3, 14,6,11). There will be two pods at each first/ second round site; the two pods at a site may feed into different regional sites.

Prior to this change, all teams placed in a particular region played their first- and second-round games at one of two sites in that region, then advanced to the regional in that same region.

"The committee wanted to maintain the event as a national tournament, with four evenly balanced regions, while at the same time keeping as many teams as close to their natural geographic area as possible," said Mike Tranghese, chair of the basket-ball committee and commissioner of the Big East Conference. "For student-athletes, it means less travel, fewer missed classes and a more exciting atmosphere in the arenas. For parents, friends and alumni, it means easier access to their favorite teams' games. For the coaches, the committee has maintained the fairness and equity of competition."

FVIFWNOTEBOOK

Best Ride In Terp History

After reaching the NCAA Sweet Sixteen for the fifth time in eight seasons, Maryland's win over Stanford in the West Region final earned the Terrapins their first trip to the Final Four.

Maryland's win over Georgetown earned the Terps their first trip to the NCAA's round of eight in 26 seasons. Maryland's only previous trips to the Elite Eight were in 1973 and 1975.

Maryland won four games in the NCAA Tournament for the first time in its history.

Best Rankings

Following its first trip to the NCAA's Final Four, the Terrapins earned the best final ranking in school history, matching a No. 4 final posting by the 1974 Terps.

Maryland finished the season ranked No.4 in the USA Today/ESPN coaches poll. The Terps were No. 11 in the final poll released by the Associated Press.

Maryland's No. 4 postseason finish, and its No. 5 AP preseason start, both were the Terps' highest pre- and postseason finishes during its current 12-year era under Gary Williams.

From Wire To Wire

The Terrapins were one of just 12 teams nationally to remain in the AP Top 25 from start to finish last season (Stanford, Michigan State, Duke, Illinois, Florida, North Carolina, Arizona, Kansas, Maryland, Virginia, Wisconsin, Wake Forest).

Fifth In Eight Seasons

Maryland reached the NCAA Sweet Sixteen for the fifth time in eight seasons — one of just seven schools to boast that claim since the 1994 season.

Likewise, Gary Williams is one of just six coaches to lead teams to the Sweet Sixteen as many as five times since 1994.

Over The Top

With its win over Stanford, the Terrapins erased their former distinction as the nation's winningest NCAA Tournament team never to reach the Final Four.

Three Seed To Final Four

Since the 64-team format originated in 1979, Maryland became the 10th team to carry a No. 3 seed to the Final Four.

vs. No. 1/2 Ranked

In the national semifinal against No. 1-ranked Duke, Maryland faced a squad ranked either No. 1 or No. 2 in the country for the sixth time in the same season.

Earlier, Maryland split three meetings (1-2) with Duke who was ranked No. 2 in all three games in at least one poll.

Maryland lost a road decision at top-ranked North Carolina during the Terps' five-of-six game losing skid, and in the West Regional beat No. 2 Stanford.

Fourth Time, At Final Four

Until Maryland met Duke on four separate occasions in 2000-01, Maryland had met an opponent four times in the same season just once. Maryland bested Viriginia in all four meetings during the 1956-57 campaign.

181, 190, 191, 101

Maryland and Duke in 2001 were the first ACC duo to appear in the Final Four together since North Carolina and Duke shared center stage in 1991. Prior to that, it was North Carolina and Georqia Tech in 1990, and North Carolina and Virginia in 1981.

It marked the fourth time that the ACC has had a pair of entrants to the NCAA Final Four. It was only the second time that an ACC tandem has met in the Final Four.

10th Time In History

The All-ACC national semifinal game between Maryland and Duke marked the 10th time in NCAA history that two teams in one conference met in the Final Four.

Instant Rivals

It was more than fitting that Maryland and Duke meet on the nation's largest stage, considering one major cable network had immediately classified two of its first three games last season as "Instant Classics."

Maryland led all four meetings in 2001 by double digits at one point. The team that trailed at halftime won all four meetings.

A summary ond breakdown of a Classic Series: Maryland led a total of 79:19 ... Duke led a total of 58:18 ... The two teams were tied 11:23 ... The lougest Maryland lead was for 32:18 (1st & 2nd halves of Game 4) ... The longest Duke lead was for 15:41 (2nd half of Game 3) ... The largest Maryland lead was 22 (1st half of Game 4) ... The largest Duke lead was 14 (2nd half of Game 3)...

Terps & Devils Streaking

Maryland won 10 of its last 12 games. Duke won 13 of its last 14. Their lone losses during their respective streaks were to each other.

Most Wins Over Top 25

Maryland beat ranked opponents in seven of eight games late in the season. Overall, the Terps' eight wins over Top 25 foes exceeded the previous record of seven in 1974-75.

vs. Top 10

Maryland wins over Duke and Virginia were the Terps' first defeats of Top 10 opponents in consecutive games since 1976, and just the second time in history.

The win over Stanford helped Maryland set a new school record with its fourth defeat of a Top 10 team in one season.

Hot In Final Month

Maryland was called one of the hottest teams in the country over the final month — if not the hottest. The proof is in the numbers: since Feb. 17, Maryland was 10-2 overall and 7-2 against other ranked opponents (AP Top 25).

Entering the Final Four, Maryland won more games over ranked opponents than any other team in the country. In fact, entering the tournament, only Florida had matched the Terps with a 5-1 mark over ranked teams.

Honor Roll

Juan Dixon garnered All-America accolades in 2001, and four of Maryland's five starters earned merit among recipients of 2001 All-ACC teams.

Chosen as a third team All-American by Basketball Times and the NABC, Dixon was the fifth Terp ever to earn first team All-ACC honors in back-to-back seasons, and the first since Joe Smith in 1994 and 1995.

Third team Bosketboll Times All-America Third team NABC All-America Honorable mention AP All-America NCAA West Region All-Tournament First team All-ACC Tournament First team All-ACC First team All-ACC Defensive Two-time ACC Player of the Week

Lonny Baxter was an All-ACC first team pick in 2000, and a second-teamer in 2001. He was a second team All-ACC Tournament selection, and was named the Most Outstanding Player at the NCAA West Regional.

Terence Morris was a three-time All-ACC pick, earning first and second team honors as a sophomore and junior, and a third team citation in 2001

Steve Blake earned honorable mention All-ACC for the second straight season.

Teamwork, Balance, Depth

From top to bottom, Maryland utilized at least nine regular players who made steady contributions.

- Terp reserves played a key role in the win over Georgetown, amassing 28 points for their highest total of the postseason.
- Maryland's bench contributed a remarkable 62 points in the win over Virginia. Besides 15
- points from ordinary starter Lonny Baxter, other contributors were Drew Nicholas (16), Danny Miller (14) and Tahj Holden (9).
- Maryland's bench contributed 35 points in the loss to Duke at home, including a season-high 14 from Holden, nine from Miller and eight from Nicholas.

 The Terps' bench combined to score better than 30 points on 10 occasions, and more than 20 points 26 times.

More Bench Notes

— The Terps had a double-figure scorer from off the bench in three of five NCAA Tournament wins, and four of its last six games overall.

FIGHT CONSECUTIVE NCAA TOURNAMENTS · 2001 FINAL FOUR

- Sophomore Tahj Holden scored 14 and 10 points, respectively, in NCAA Tourney wins over Stanford and Georgetown. He scored 10 and against Duke in the ACC semifinal.
- Drew Nicholas was third on the team in 3-pointers (34) and assists (86/2.5).
- In the regular season finale against Virginia, Nicholas posted the first double-double of his career with 16 points and 10 assists.

The Century Mark

Including the regular season finale against Virginia with 102 points cored, the Terps eclipsed the century mark on six occasions in 2000-01, just two times shy of the season record of eight, set in 1974-75

Maryland set a school standard during December by scoring over 100 points in four consecutive games.

Third In The Nation

The Terps were the country's third-highest scoring team.

NCAA Scoring Offense	G	Pts.	Avg.
1. TCU	31	2,902	93.6
2. Duke	39	3,538	90.7
3. Maryland	36	3,067	85.2
4. Virginia	29	2,464	85.0

Terps Among NCAA Leaders

Juan Dixon, Steve Blake and Lonny Baxter all were among national leaders in various statistical categories:

- Blake was ninth in the nation with 6.9 assists per game.
- Dixon was 13th among NCAA leaders with 2.6 steals per game.
- Dixon was 26th in the nation with a 86.5 free throw shooting percentage.
- Baxter was 24th in the country with a 56.6 percent field goal shooting clip.

Points & Steals Specialist

A slasher and creative scorer, Juan Dixon led the Terps in scoring, with 18.2 points. He was fifth in the ACC. He led the ACC in steals and was second in free throw percentage.

- Dixon is the 13th player in Terrapin history with at least 1,500 career points.
- Dixon is among a select list of Maryland greats ever to score 30 at least five times (Walt Williams-15, Joe Smith-7, Len Bias-6, John Lucas-5, Juan Dixon-5).
- He owns a school-record streak of 40 straight charity shots without a miss last season
- Dixon's FT percentage was second in Maryland history. It is Maryland's best percentage ever, by a player with more than 100 attempts.
- On other Maryland single-season charts, Dixon finished third in steals (95) and 3-point baskets (62).
- He scored in double figures in 34 of 36 games last year, and in 66 of the last 71 entering his senior season.
- He enters his senior campaign in third on the Maryland career chart for steals, and ninth in ACC history.

Stealing The ACC

Juan Dixon helped Maryland become the first school ever to boast the ACC's steals leader in four straight seasons.

Counting three straight seasons (1994-96) in which former Terp Johnny Rhodes led the circuit in steals, a Maryland player has led the ACC in steals in seven of the past eight years.

Inside Muscle

Lonny Baxter led the team in rebounds (7.9) and was second on the team in points (15.6). He finished third in the ACC in rebounds and seventh in points.

- Baxter averaged 16 points and 10 rebounds through five NCAA Tournament games in 2001. He became the first Terrapin ever named the MVP of an NCAA Regional when he captured Most Outstanding Player honors in Anaheim. He combined for 50 points and 20 rebounds in wins over Georgetown and Stanford.
- He nearly averaged a double-double in ACC play with 14.1 points and 8.1 rebounds.
  - He has scored in double figures in 37 of the last 43 games.
- He boasted consecutive double-double efforts heading into the NCAA Tournament, and finished the season with six in his last nine games.

Mr. All-Around

Terence Morris led the team in blocks (2.2), was second in rebounds (7.7), and third in scoring (12.2).

Morris became just the second Maryland player and the 10th in ACC history to record 500 blocked shots.

- He is the fifth Terp to reach 900 rebounds in a career, and the ninth Terrapin player ever to score 1,700 points.
- He finished his career in second place on the Terps' career chart for blocked shots, and 10th on the ACC career chart.

Fancy Passers

Maryland boasted five different players who averaged over two assists per game, led by ACC leader Steve Blake. The Terrapins led the ACC as a team with 19.5 assists per outing.

Blake became the first Terrapin since John Lucas in 1974 to lead the ACC. He eclipsed the school record for single season assists (248) and assists per game (6.9).

Blake Comes Of Age

As a sophomore, Steve Blake asserted himself as one of the best point guards in the country.

— He was an honorable mention All-ACC choice, but had the second most votes among point quards.

— Blake scored in double figures in nine of his last 18 games. In those games, he averaged 8.6 points, compared to 5.2 in the season's first 18 games.

- Blake's 11 assists at Cameron Indoor Stadium, and against Duke at the ACC Tournament, represent a career-high against ACC opponents. In four games with Duke last season, he scored 40 noints with 36 assists.
- He netted 24 of 48 3FGs (50%) during the last half of the season.

— Blake hit all three of his 3-point field goal attempts in the West Region final vs. Stanford. He was 2-for-4 against Duke in the Final Four.

- Excluding an overtime and 1:51 of regulation after fouling out against Duke on Jan. 27, Blake limited former USA teammate (and roommate) Jason Williams to a combined 26 points and 10 assists in two regular season games.
- He is sixth in career assists at Maryland and the first to reach 400 as a sophomore.
- He already is 185 assists shy of breaking the Maryland career record, well within reach by the end of just his junior season.
- Mathematically-speaking, Blake (465) is on pace to challenge the ACCs all-time assist leaders: Bobby Hurley (1,076), Chris Corchiani (1,038), Ed Cota (1,030), Grayson Marshall (857). Hurley, Corchiani and Cota are 1-2-3 in NCAA history, also.

A 1,000-Point Quartet

Maryland became only the 38th Division I team ever to boast four 1,000-point scorers active in the same season.

Senior Terence Morris eclipsed the 1,000-point barrier in 1999-00, and a trio of juniors — Juan Dixon, Lonny Baxter and Byron Mouton all reached the mark in 2000-01.

- No other team in the nation had four active players with 1,000 points in 2000-01.
- The 2001 Terps were the sixth ACC team ever to boast four 1.000-point scorers active on the same team.

Impact Newcomer

After Maryland won 10 straight games and 13 of the first 14 with Byron Mouton among the Terps' starting five, The Sporting News called Mouton the ACC's Impact Newcomer of the Year through the first half of the season.

— Mouton's 22 points on 6-of-9 shooting against George Mason marked his best scoring game since Determber, and his second-highest scoring output of the season. His 9-for-9 free throws set a new Maryland single-game record in the NCAA Tournament.

— Mouton scored in double figures in 16 of 36 games last season. He started 29 of 31 games since he entered the starting lineup against Michigan.

Games By Mardesich

Senior co-captain Mike Mardesich played in more games (137), and won more games (99) than any player ever to wear a Terranin uniform.

He played every game of his career and now owns Maryland records for games played overall, and consecutive games played.

MILWAUKEE, Wisc. - Kirk Penney scored five of his 18 points in overtime as No. 23 Wisconsin held off 13th-ranked Maryland 78-75 in an ACC-Big Ten Challenge game at the Bradley Center.

Penney, a sophomore who was 0-for-13 from the field in the Badgers' opener, hit a 3-pointer on the first possession of overtime and Wisconsin (2-1) never trailed

The Terrapins (1-3) lost for the third straight time despite holding Wisconsin to just 37 percent shooting and committing just 12 turnovers.

After Maryland's Drew Nicholas fired a long 3-pointer to pull the Terps within five, the Badgers' victory seemed secured when Nicholas misfired another long 3 pointer with 10 seconds left and Roy Boone was fouled on the rebound. His two free throws pave Wisconsin a 78-71 lead.

But the pesky Terrapins scored on Byron Mouton's basket, stole the ball and Terence Morris made two foul shots with a second left. Mouton came off the bench to lead the Terrapins with 14 points.

Charlie Wills' two free throws with 51 seconds left in regulation put Wisconsin ahead 62-59, but Steve Blake hit a tying 3-pointer from the top of the key with 36

Earlier, Mike Vershaw scored six points in an 11-0 run the Badgers used to take a 50-42 lead with 10:00 left. But Nicholas made four foul shots, Mike Mardesich made a nifty basket underneath and Tahi Holden's 3-pointer with six minutes left gave Maryland a 51-50 lead and ensured an exciting finish.

The Badgers jumped to leads of 11-2 and 21-10 before the Terrapins settled down, Juan Dixon, who scored 11 of his 12 points in the first half pave Maryland its first lead at 32-31 with a layup at 2:49 of the first half. Maryland led 37-34 at half-

PHILADELPHIA — Byron Mouton scored 19 of his 20 points in the first half as No. 19 Maryland beat Penn 87-81

Maryland (5-3) won its fourth straight game — each with Mouton starting — after starting the year 1-3.

Juan Oxon had 23 points and Terence Morris added 12 points for Maryland. Lamar Plummer scored 23 points, Ugonna Onyekwe had 20 and Geoff Owens added 14 for Penn Mouton had 12 points during a 21-1 run midway through the first half as Maryland broke open a close game. Steve Blake scored 10 straight points late in the second half as the Terrapins held off a strong rally.

But Mouton stopped shooting in the second half, and Penn fought back Plummer, who finished 7-ol-11 from 3-point range, hit five 3-pointers in the second half to lead Penn back from a 24-point delicit. Plummer made two consecutive 3-pointers to cut it to 64-50. He nailed another 3-pointer to cap a 10-2 run that made it 69-60, and hit a long-range 3-pointer to cut to 75-69 with 4 24 left

Blake answered Plummer's shots with a 3-pointer and a long jumper — his first points of the game — to give Maryland an 80-69 lead. After a layup by Onyekwe, Blake hit another jumper to make it 82-71 with 1-58 left.

Gm 9 – Maryland 93, UMBC 67

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Juan Dixon is more than just a starting shooting guard with a slick touch. He's proof that coach Gary Williams knows a little something about recruiting.

Dixon scored 23 points to top 1,000 for his career as No. 20 Maryland rolled to its fifth straight victory, 93-67 over Maryland-Baltimore County.

Lonny Baxter had 17 points and 12 rebounds for the Terrapins (6-3), who never trailed after Dixon snapped a 4-4 tie with seven straight points. It was Maryland's 73rd consecutive non-conference home win, the longest such streak in the nation.

Gm 13 - Maryland 104, Clemson 92

CLEMSON, S.C. --- Terence Morris knew it was time.

"Somebody had to step up, so I took it upon myself to do what I could do," the senior forward said after scoring 18 of his 26 points in the second half as No. 17 Maryland beat Clemson 104-92 to open the Atlantic Coast Conference season.

Juan Dixon and Lonny Baxter combined for 35 points in the first half as the Terrapins (10-3, 1-0 ACC) took a 59-S6 lead. Morris was 3-of-7 from the field and not much of a factor in the opening 20 minutes.

Dixon and Baxter were both in foul trouble in the second half and it was Morris who led the Terps to their ninth straight victory.

And the Terps needed everything Morris had to beat Clemson (9-5, 0-1), which was led by Will Solomon's 32 points. Morris' 3-pointer and two foul shots finished an 8-0 run that put Maryland ahead to stay, 79-73.

Clemson got within 94-89 on a field goal by Adam Allenspach, but again it was Morris, who jammed home a loose ball with 2:07 left to increase the lead.

"That's what Terence Morris does," said Baxter, who was 8-of-10 from the field and 8-of-8 from the free throw line in scoring 24 points, "He makes the plays when we need them."

Dixon finished with 22 as the Terrapins reached 100 points for the fourth straight Solomon's sixth 3-pointer gave the Tigers their last lead, 73-71, with 14:05 remaining, Solomon, though, scored just three more points in the game as Maryland took control Morris' three-point play gave Maryland a 71-69 lead. After Solomon's final 3-pointer. Danny Miller hit a long field goal and Morris scored the next five points.

Solomon's last basket drew Clemson to 83-82 with 9:26 left, but Dixon fed Byron Mouton for a guick basket and Mouton followed with a 3-pointer.

Gm 15 - North Carolina 86, Maryland 83

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - North Carolina had just wrestled control of the game from Maryland when, suddenly, it was as if time stood still.

The Tar Heels' 19-point lead dwindled to almost nothing before Joseph Forte emphatically finished what he started, sealing a 86-83 victory. Forte scored 20 of his 26 points in the second half for No. 9 North Carolina, which couldn't do much wrong shortly after halftime and didn't do much of anything as 14th-ranked Maryland got back in the game

The Tar Heels led 71-52 with 8:14 left before Maryland rallied to 80-77 with 27 seconds remaining. Forte then hit two foul shots and a layup to seal the victory. The sophomore guard went 7-for-8 at the line and scored 11 of the Tar Heels final 13 points

It was the ninth straight win for North Carolina (12-2, 3-0 ACC) and first at Maryland in four games since 1997. Terence Morris had 21 points and 12 rebounds for the Terrapins (11-4, 2-1), whose 10-game winning streak ended. Juan Dixon scored 22 and Lonny Baxter added 20.

Forte and Jason Capel hit 3-pointers, and Kris Lang added a three-point play as the Tar Heels opened the second half with a 9-0 run to take a 41-36 lead. After Baxter and Dixon scored for Maryland, Capel drilled a pair of 3-pointers and Forte tallied six points in a 17-4 run that made it 58-44.

Baxter scored 11 of Maryland's first 13 points before a basket by Ronald Curry gave North Carolina its first lead at 14-13. Down 21-20, the Terrapins got seven points from Dixon in a 9-2 run. North Carolina then used 3-pointers by Curry and Adam Boone to draw even, but Morris scored on a drive and added a 3-pointer to put Maryland up 36-32 at halftime

Gm 18 - Maryland 75, NC State 61

Officials: Edward Corbett Karl Ness Larry Rose A - 14 500

RALEIGH, N.C. — Terence Morris scored 20 points and Lonny Baxter added 18 as No. 12 Maryland matched its best six-game Atlantic Coast Conference start with a 75-61 victory over North Carolina State.

The Terrapins (14-4, 5-1 ACC) won without much help from leading scorer Juan Dixon, who injured his tailbone in practice the day prior to the game and didn't play in the second half.

Dixon came in averaging 24.2 points in ACC play and had scored at least 19 points in 11 straight games. He ended with just two free throws against the Wolfpack (9-7, 1-4) in 13 minutes.

But Morris and Baxter more than picked up the slack on offense, combining to go 15-for-24 from the field, as Maryland won for the 13th time in its last 14. The Terrapins were leading by four at halftime — the 18th straight time this season Maryland has led at the break - and finished off the Wolfpack midway through the period by scoring on seven straight possessions.

Maryland led 46-38 before getting four straight fast-break layups, two free throws by Morris, and then two more layups to go up by 15 with 9:33 left.

The lead reached 21 five minutes later on a 3-pointer by Drew Nicholas as the Terrapins beat the Wolfpack for the 18th time in the last 22 meetings.

Gm 20 - Virginia 99, Maryland 78

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. — Kenth Friel hit three 3-pointers during a 25-4 second-half run and the suddenly confident Virginia Cavaliers handed Maryland its second tough conference loss in a row, 99-78.

The Cavaliers (15-4, 4-4 ACC), who also had a 24-2 run in the first half, saw Maryland (14-6, 5-3) draw to within 52-51 with 13:42 to play before blitzing the Terps behind Friel's deep shooting and some high flying acrobatics.

"When we got it to one, we didn't do a good job of running our offense," Maryland coach Gary Williams said. "That was our last chance."

Adam Hall started the run with a driving score, and Friel followed by sinking a 3-pointer from just right of the key. After Travis Watson's wraparound layup gave the Cavaliers a 59-53 edge, Friel hit again.

the Cavaliers a 59-53 edge, Friel hit again.

Hall then got into the act in a big way, stealing the ball at midcourt and driving in for a ferocious dunk, then following a Cavaliers' miss by soaring, catching and almost dropping the ball into the hoop.

That made it 66-54, and when Friel hit again, this time from the right wing with 9:10 left, the lead was 69-54 and it was all but finished.

Virginia led 47-35 at halftime, the first time Maryland trailed at the half all season. The Cavaliers did it by outscoring the Terrapins 24-2 over a 5:15 stretch to erase a 24-20 deficit.

Gm 21 - Maryland 69, Clemson 54

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Terence Morris scored 18 points, including three straight baskets down the stretch, as No. 9 Maryland snapped a two-game skid by pulling away to a 69-54 victory over Clemson.

Lonny Baxter had 14 points and 13 rebounds for the Terps (15-6, 6-3 ACC), who never trailed in beating Clemson for the seventh straight time.

Clemson used a 13-3 run to close to 54-50 with 6:14 left. But after a Maryland timeout, Morris made a layup, a 15-footer and follow-dunk to put the Terrapins up by 10 with 3:40 left.

Will Solomon scored 19 points for Clemson (10–12, 1–8), which lost its sixth straight. The Tigers shot a season-low 31 percent and committed 18 turnovers.

After letting a 17-point lead dwindle to 11, the Terrapins opened the second half with a 6-0 run that included a 3-pointer by Oixon.

Clemson closed to 49-37 before Baxter missed two layups, got his own rebound each time and put the ball back in on the third attempt to give Maryland a 14-noint cushion.

Gm 22 - Georgia Tech 72, Maryland 62

ATLANTA — Tony Akins scored 28 points, including a critical 3-pointer with just over a minute remaining, and Georgia Tech beat No. 13 Maryland 72-62.

The surprising Yellow Jackets (13-8,5-5 ACC) posted their third victory against a ranked opponent.

The Terrapins (15-7, 6-4) committed 16 turnovers, failing to take advantage of Georgia Tech losing the ball 20 times in a sloppy, erratic game that appeared to belong in November rather than February.

Maryland, averaging 88.6 points per game, was held to its lowest total of the season. Juan Dixon had 18 points for the Terps, who were just 10 of 27 from the field in the second half and finished at 40 percent for the game.

Akins hit the biggest shot of the night, which was only appropriate since the 5-foot-11 point guard repeatedly countered Maryland's quickness by either penetrating the lane or hitting long jumpers from outside the arc.

Actually, Akins gave Maryland its final basket, throwing away a pass for one of his eight turnovers. Drew Nicholas took it the other way for a dunk that pulled the Terps to 64-62.

With the shot clock winding down and Juan Dixon in his face, Akins had little choice but to launch a 3.1t swished through with 1.09 to go. Georgia Tech sealed the victory at the foul line while Maryland failed to score another point.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Delvon Arrington scored 17 points and Florida State withstood a furious comeback bid by No. 17 Maryland for a stunning 74-71 victory.

Maryland .700, North Carolina .950 Technical Fouls - UNC bench, Maryland bench Officials.

The Seminoles had lost 10 straight to Maryland and began the game in last place in the Atlantic Coast Conference, but they never trailed after taking a 4-3 lead.

Florida State (7-17, 2-9 ACC) led by 12 early in the second half, but Maryland had several chances to tie or take the lead in the closing minutes. After two foul shorts by the Seminoles' Antwana Dixon made it 74-71 with 16 seconds left, Maryland (15-9, 6-6) missed two 3-pointers before the buzzer sounded.

Dixon scored 14 for FSU and Adrian Crawford had 11. Juan Dixon scored 14 points for the Terrapins. Freshman forward Chris Wilcox, making his first college start, scored 13 points on 6-for-7 shooting.

Antwuan Dixon opened the second half with a three-point play to put Florida State ahead 36-24. Wilcox then made three straight baskets, and minutes later his layup off a steal cut the margin to three points.

Crawford responded with a three-point play to start an 11-4 spurt that made it 53-43 with 10:18 left. The lead dwindled to four before the Seminoles' Mike Mathews temporarily stalled the comeback with a dunk and a foul shot.

Maryland's hopes dimmed when center Lonny Baxter fouled out with 5:22 left and the Seminoles up 64-59. But the Terrapins scored their next six points at the line to close to 66-65.

Dixon tossed his new shoes aside, laced up his old sneakers and just like that, Maryland's leading scorer reverted to form.

Dixon scored 23 points in the second half as No. 20 Maryland extended its home non-conference winning streak to 77 games by pulling away to a 68-60 victory over No. 16 Dklahoma.

Maryland (18-9) led by 12 in the first half, then fell behind shortly after halftime defire Dixon hit a pair of 3-pointers in a 14-3 run that put the Terrapins up 45-36. With four minutes left, Dixon had 20 of Maryland's 33 second-half points and the Terrapins led 60-49.

Kelley Newton scored 14 points and Daryan Selvy added 12 for the Sooners (21-6). Oklahoma played without starting point guard J.R. Raymond, who was suspended for violating team policy and did not make the tirp. Doxon went 7-for-11 from the field in the second half, sinking four 3-pointers.

"He is as good as advertised," Sampson said.

Lonny Baxter scored 16 for the Terrapins, whose non-conference run at home is the longest in the nation. The streak began in December 1989.

Gm 28 - Maryland 91, Duke 80

DURHAM, N.C. -- No. 16 Maryland lost a 10-point lead in the final minute a month earlier at home against Duke, but got revenge in Cameron Indoor Stadium by beating the No. 2 Blue Devils 91-80.

"I can't say enough about our character," Maryland coach Gary Williams said. "To go through what we did in College Park, to lose a game like we did and then come down here and get the win, that's really big."

Juan Dixon was the offensive and defensive hero for the Terps (19-9,9-6 ACC). scoring 28 points and getting five steals.

"Dixon was literally sensational," Duke coach Mike Krzyzewski said.

Lonny Baxter added 15 points and 10 rebounds, while Terence Morris had 13 points and 12 rebounds as the Terrapins dominated the boards in winning at Duke for the second straight season.

Shane Battier led Duke with 31 points in his last game in Cameron, getting 19 in the first half, but watched Duke (25-4, 12-3) crumble in the second half.

Duke led 60-51 with 15:20 left went more than eight minutes without a basket as Maryland took over

Dixon's floater in the lane with six minutes left gave the Terrapins the lead for good at 70-69 and his steal and fastbreak layup on Duke's next trip down the floor seemed to take the wind out of the already tired and injured Blue Devils.

The Terrapins, who shot 53 percent in the second half, sealed it from the foul line, making 10 of 11 over the final 1:34

Gm 29 – Marvland 102. Virginia 67

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Forget the 1-3 start. Forget the mini-collapse that followed the loss to Duke. It's how you're playing going into tournament time that matters, and Maryland has rarely played better.

Juan Dixon's 21 points led five players in double figures as No. 16 Maryland dismantled No. 7 Virginia 102-67 to end the regular season with consecutive victories over Top Ten teams.

The 35-point victory, matching Maryland's biggest ever over Virginia, clinched third place in the ACC for the Terrapins (20-9, 10-6).

The loss snapped a four-game winning streak for the Cavaliers (20-7,9-7). Virginia, which beat the Terrapins by 21 points just five weeks earlier, hasn't won at Cole Field House since 1993. The 56-point swing in the two games tied the third largest in ACC history.

Backup point guard Drew Nicholas had 16 points and a career-high 10 assists for the Terrapins, while Danny Miller scored a season-high 14 points with six rebounds and six assists

Maryland shot 62 percent, including 72 percent in the second half

The Terrapins won their sixth straight game with another dominating performance, routing No. 22 Wake Forest 71-53 in the quarterfinals of the Atlanta Coast Conference tournament, Maryland (21-9) defeated the fifth ranked team of its current streak, including Wake Forest (19-10) twice. The average margin in those victories: a scary 19.5 points.

Lonny Baxter added 14 points for the Terrapins, but it was the dirty work that powered this victory. Maryland dominated the boards and limited the Demon Deacons to 32 percent (19-of-60) shooting in their lowest scoring game of the season. The Terps, leading only 31-26 at the break, finished off the Deacons with an 18-4 run to begin the second half.

Maryland haffled the Wake defenders in the second half, hitting from inside and out. Steve Blake connected on back-to-back-3-pointers while Terence Morris and Baxter controlled the lane.

Wake Forest (19-10)

ATLANTA -- Duke's Nate James tipped in a missed runner from Jason Willams with 1.3 seconds left, and Shane Battier scored 20 points as the No. 3 Duke Blue Devils edged No. 11 Maryland B4-82 in the ACC tournament semifinals.

Williams added 19 points, and James 14 as the Blue Devils snapped Maryland's six-game winning streak. None of James' points were bigger than his last bucket. He went up in a crowd and tipped in the winning shot after Steve Blake's 3-pointer had rallied the Terrapins from a 14-point deficit to an 82-82 tie with 8.1 seconds left. A half-court shot by Juan Dixon at the final buzzer nearly went in, but it

bounced off the rim

Third-seeded Maryland (21-10) made its seventh straight appearance in the ACC semifinals — the second-best run in league history — and rallied down the stretch behind some clutch outside shooting.

After Blake's basket. Duke didn't call its final timeout, instead choosing to race down the floor with the ball in Williams' hands. His running shot bounced off the rim. but the strategy worked in the end as James made the game-winning follow shot.

Maryland took advantage in the opening minutes and shot 62 percent in the first half, but 12 turnovers cost the Terrapins their cushion.

After Maryland took a 10-0 lead, the score was tied nine times in the final 12:10 of the first half

NCAA West Region Final Gm 35 - Maryland 87, Stanford 73

ANAHEIM, Calif. — Six weeks after its season seemed to be coming apart, Maryland used its speed and depth to upset top-seeded Stanford 87-73 and reach the Final Four for the first time.

The Terrapins hit over 58 percent from the field, including 9-of-13 from 3point range.

MARYLAND BASKSTBALL MEN'S

IN THE NBA DRAFT

Buoved by three first and second round draft picks from Washington, D.C.'s MCI Center at the 1999 NBA Draft, Maryland and Gary Williams have asserted themselves in recent years among the most prominent schools in developing NBA talent.

Including 2001 senior Terence Morris, drafted in the second round by the Atlanta Hawks and immediately traded to the Houston Rockets to rejoin former college teammate Steve Francis, Maryland boasts six NBA draft picks in the last seven seasons

What's more, Francis, the No. 2 pick in that '99 draft, went on to become the NBA's Co-Rookie of the Year. Joining Francis in the '99 draft bonanza were teammates Obinna Ekezie and Laron Profit, giving the Terps three selections in a single draft for only the fourth time in school history. Chosen by the Vancouver Grizzlies to give Maryland three lottery selections in just an eight-year span, Francis was traded in the preseason to the Houston Rockets for whom he led all NBA rookies with 6.6 steals in 1999-00, and was the second-leading rookie scorer with 18 points per game

Speculation raged before the '99 draft that the Chicago Bulls, with the No. 1 overall selection, would select Francis. Had Francis been the No. 1 overall selection, Maryland would have become the first school in NBA history to have three No. 1 selections. Previously, John Lucas was the top pick by the Houston Rockets in 1976 and Joe Smith was picked first by the Golden State Warriors in 1995

The Terps' 1999 draft windfall brought to four the number of alltime Maryland lottery selections — tied for eighth among all NCAA schools. Francis' selection with the No. 2 overall pick brought to three the number of lottery selections at Maryland under head coach Gary Williams. Overall, five Maryland players and seven overall since 1987 have played for Gary Williams and become first-round draft picks with guaranteed contracts.

Since Williams' arrival at Maryland to begin the 1990 season, a total of 11 players (an average of one per season) have begun their professional careers as NBA draft choices. During his career, an incredible total of 24 players (an average of more than one per year) have been NBA draft choices.

"Strive for clarity, but accept and understand ambiguity."

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Thirteen years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions, and accept ambiguity."

And we also hope you enjoy the journey.

UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

The Campus

The University of Maryland, College Park is the most comprehensive institution of higher education, research and service in the state. The university offers 100 undergraduate majors, 88 master's programs and 69 doctoral programs in 13 colleges and schools.

The university is one of only 30 public research universities that are members of the prestigious S8-member Association of American Universities. Among the public universities in the Association of American Universities, Maryland ranks among the top in percentage of African-American undergraduate students. In addition, the university has the largest number of African-Americans and other minority members among its neers

Flagship Status

In 1988, the University of Maryland, College Park was designated as the flagship institution for the University System of Maryland. As well as pursuing a serious research mission and continuing its high level of service to the state, the university rededicated itself to providing the highest quality graduate and undergraduate education. Increased undergraduate opportunities for research and individual study; the development of the College Park Scholars Program and the expansion of the University Honors Program; the genesis of Honors Humanities and Gemstone: the creation of CORE, the general education program; and the establishment of the Center for Teaching Excellence all affirmed the legislature's designation of flagship.

A report card published in Technology Review rated the top U.S. universities in their quest for intellectual property, commercial partners and profits. Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland (28th) were the Mid-Atlantic (Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, District of Columbia) schools to make the "Campus patenting" top 50 list.

Black Issues In Higher Education ranked the university 12th in graduating black males with baccalaureate degrees in all disciplines. (Maryland is second among non-historically black schools.) Maryland is 23rd in black male undergraduate enrollment figures among all schools.

The Wall Street Journal ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 13 among the world's business schools. Maryland is the top-ranked school in the Mid-Atlantic region (Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia). The Financial Times of London ranked the Robert H. In the only undergraduate program rankings released by U.S. News & World Report—business and engineering—both the Robert H. Smith School of Business (No. 21) and A. James Clark School of Engineering (No. 22) were ranked among the top 25. In business, the management information systems specialty was No. 7; entrepreneurship No. 12; general management specialty No. 21; e-commerce No. 8; human resources specialty No. 10. In engineering, the aerospace/aeronautical/astronautical specialty was No. 11.

An economic impact study conducted by the economists with the Jacob France Center, an applied economics analysis center at the University of Baltimore, concluded that the University of Maryland generates $5.93 of economic activity for every dollar appropriated by the General Assembly, for a total statewide effect of nearly $1.8 billion.

The academic credentials – high school grades and SAT scores – are again the best ever. And more of those accepted by Maryland are now choosing to enroll here.

The average GPA for freshmen who enrolled in fall 2001 was 3.72, compared with 3.0 in 1990.SAT scores of the middle SO percent are 1180 to 1330, up from 980-

What is more remarkable this year is how the university's successes in establishing quality programs – academic and athletic – and cementing a major role in the community, have attracted more of the best students than ever. Of those who were admitted to Maryland this year, nearly 43 percent confirmed their plans to attend, compared with less than 40 percent the previous year.

In its survey of the colleges of choice of top graduates in Maryland high schools last year, the Woshington Post found that more than half picked the University of Maryland. No other single school was even close.

Why There's No Better Place

There is no place better to be than the University of Maryland. As university President C.D. Mote Jr. noted in a Baltimore Sun frontpage story on March 28,"This place is clearly on a tear."

With top-ranked academic programs (60 in the top 25, according to 0.5. News and World Report), an honors program that competes with the lvy League for top students, a prize-winning faculty (topped by a Nobel and five Pultizers, among others), a highly diverse population, and a beautiful 1,580-acre campus located between the cultural and population centers of Washington, D.C., and Baltimore, Md., it's little wonder that more of Marylands top high school graduates choose the University of Maryland over all other Maryland colleges, public and private, combined.

In the latest U.S. News and World Report rankings, Maryland was 24th nationally among all public universities. The colleges of engineering, education, computer, mathematical and physical sciences, and information sciences are all ranked in the top 25 nationally. So are many of the individual programs in those schools and others, including criminology, journalism, public relations, counseling and others. The Robert H. Smith School of Business has been ranked among the top business schools in the world by the Woll Street Journal and the Financial Times of London.

More than 40 percent of all entering freshmen at Maryland are now enrolled in high-achieving programs like the Honors Program, Honors Humanites College Park Scholars, Gemstone and a growing roster of living-learning communities where students with common interests in such topics as civil society and entrepreneurship can live and study together. With their wide variety of subject areas and top faculty from throughout the university, these programs compete for students with the best public and private universities in the country.

Supporting the research needs of students and faculty are some of the country's best research facilities. In 1994, the largest, most technically advanced research archives in the world — National Archives II — moved to College Park. In addition, just outside of College Park are the Library of Congress, the Smithsonian Institution and the National Libraries of Agriculture and Medicine, among others. The university itself has the most comprehensive library system in the area.

High tech, engineering and service industries thrive in proximity to the campus, offering a wide spectrum of internship and work-study opportunities that only a major metropolitan area can provide.

Whether your focus is the sciences or the humanities, a small town atmosphere or a metropolitan feel, the University of Maryland, College Park offers a wide range of educational and cultural opportunities. There is no better place to be than the University of Maryland, College Park.

(.D.MOTE JR.

University President

When C.D."Dan" Mote Jr. became the 19th president of the University of Maryland on Sept. 1, 1998 he proclaimed it a university "on the move."Three years later, under his guidance, Maryland continues to move — at an ever accelerating rate — on the field, in the classroom, in the community, and in the world.

The University of Maryland is the state of Maryland's most important asset, says Mote: "The future of the state depends on this university."

Fulfilling that responsibility is a big job, but Mote is accustomed to that role. He spent his entire academic career at the University of California at Berkeley, where he earned all his degrees, taught engineering and eventually became vice chancellor for university relations before coming to Maryland.

One of Mote's first tasks here was to serve on a governor's task force to examine the funding and organization of the University System of Maryland. The task force recommended, and the General Assembly enacted into law, a reaffirmation of the university's flagship status and a commitment to funding at levels comparable to the best public universities in the nation.

As president, Mote is committed to making that asset even greater by creating a culture of excellence and civility across the campus, continuing to emphasize the highest quality education for students, strengthening the university's internal and external connections, and achieving distinction as an institution where discovery takes place every day and everywhere.

The university's progress in each of these areas can be measured by the quality of its programs; the stature of its faculty; the talent of its students; its partnerships with business; its impact on the state's economy; its ability to apply discoveries to global, national and regional problems; and its world-class, state-of-the-art facilities.

Quality Programs

Over the past decade, Maryland's programs have been improving by leaps and bounds, and when it entered the first decade of the 21st century, it had 60 programs ranked in the top 2S nationally by U.S. News and World Report.

While the university's academic successes are across the board, it has emerged as a true powerhouse in business, computer science, earth sciences, engineering, education and journalism. The Robert H. Smith School of Business has achieved top 10 rankings from such beacon publications as the Financial Times of London and the Woll Street Journal. Every department in the College of Education has programs ranked in the U.S. News' top 2S, and the Counseling and Personnel Services Program has long been ranked tops in the nation.

Faculty Stature

With the addition during Mote's third year of a Nobel Laureate in Physics and three more Pulitzer Prize winners (to join three already on the faculty), Maryland continues to attract the best faculty available. Nearly two dozen faculty are members of the national academies in their fields, the highest professional recognition attainable.

Experts on the Maryland faculty are regularly sought by the news media for their views on a wide variety of issues, including politics, international affairs, social trends, economics, science and technology.

Talented Students

Over the past 10 years, it has become a virtual cliché to announce that each year's new freshman class is the most talented ever. The average GPA of entering students improved from 3.00 to 3.72 from 1990 to 2000, while the average SAT score rose from 1173 to 1244 in the same period.

Not surprisingly, the number of students enrolling in honors and other special programs has also skyrocketed in recent years. As many as 40 percent of all new freshmen are now enrolled in such programs as Honors, Gemstone, College Park Scholars and other living-learning communities that bring together students with similar academic interests in a residential setting.

Business Partnerships

In order to fulfill its role as the state's most important asset, Mote has emphasized that the university must be engaged with the business and government communities in substantial and meaningful ways. Under his leadership, Maryland has provided its etchnological expertise to help the state improve its business processes through a web portal and has consulted with hundreds of Maryland businesses through its Technology Extension Program.

In the past year, the university also helped to attract Fujitsu Laboratories of America to open a research facility in College Park. Fujitsu, the third-largest communications company in the world, shares a building with the Joint Global Change Research Institute, a research partnership between the university and the Pacific Northwest National Laboratory.

Research with Impact

Sponsored research funding has more than doubled at the University of Maryland since 1990, adding significantly to the university's value as both an economic and an intellectual resource. In FY 2001, the university received $250 million in research grants, much of it directed at projects that will directly improve our social, educational and economic well-being.

Recent highlights of research funding include more than $10 million from the National Science Foundation to study a wide range of issues related to information technology, from hardware to sociological impacts of the Internet. NSF also funded two major teaching initiatives in the College of Education totaling more than $20 million and taking the university's expertise directly into Maryland schools to improve math and science instruction. Mote himself chaired an NSF-sponsored task force last year to study the feasibility of voting over the Internet.

World-Class Facilities

During Mote's second year in office, the university began the largest building boom in its history, with more than $100 million in new projects breaking ground that year. New facilities address every aspect of university life, from the arts to recreation to classrooms and laboratories, and, in creative partnership with the private sector, new residential facilities.

Highlights of the construction activity on the campus include the brand-new Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center; the Comcast Center, scheduled to open in 2002; new classrooms for chemistry, computer science, business and engineering; extensive renovations to the Adele H. Stamp Student Union; and new parking structures.

Mote also has led the development of a new campus master plan that aims at making the university a leader by example in the adoption of Smart Growth principles, ensuring that the campus retains its renowned beauty and has minimal impact on the surrounding environment.

Athletic Excellence

Mote sees athletics as an integral part of the university experience, not just a showcase to impress visitors and friends. Indeed athletic success more often than not reflects academic success, he notes. For example, all four of the teams that played in last season's NCAA basketball Final Four, including Maryland, are members of the prestigious Association of American Universities, the organization that comprises the leading research and academic universities in North America.

"That's no accident," Mote says."Institutions that are committed to excellence tend to be excellent in every endeavor. Our successes in basketball, lacrosse and other sports reflects our culture of quality as much as our successes in engineering, business, education and iournalism."

State leaders in recent years have recognized the wisdom of Mote's assertion that the university is the state's greatest asset, and they have sought to sustain its success through significant budget increases. Every year of Mote's presidency, the General Assembly has increased the university's operating budget by about 10 percent.

The private sector, too, has recognized the importance of supporting the university. Early in Mote's third year, Maryland easily surpassed its seven-year $350 million fund-raising goal – 18 months early. Before the end of the sixth year of the Bold Vision-Bright Future Compoign, the university had raised about $400 million in gifts ranging from a few dollars to more than $25 million, to pay for scholarships, endowed professorships, new facilities and programs.

DFBORAH A. YOW

Athletics Director

Dr. Deborah A. Yow is in the eighth year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland ... a year in which she also successfully concluded her presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics, an organization with a membership of more than 6,100 athletic administrators representing 1,600 colleges and universities in North America and Mexico.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony to her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability. Likewise, her election to the presidency of NACDA is an indication of the respect with which Dr. Yow is regarded in intercollegiate athletics and education in the U.S. and by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Last year, Yow was named Female Sports Executive of the Year by the editors of Street & Smith's Sports Business Journal. In addition, she received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award

As a former member of the NCAA Management Council and NCAA Division I Budget Committee, Yow presented a strong voice for excellence and integrity at the highest levels of intercollegiate athletics. In these national roles she has represented the University of Maryland and the Atlantic Coast Conference with a balanced and proactive voice.

Since taking over at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- · Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-ori-
- · Balanced all seven of the department's annual budgets (the first balanced budgets for the Terrapins in 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget has now reached $33 million annually and the sizable prior debts have been eradicated.
- · Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided to student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of nearly 90 percent during her tenure.
- · Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 15 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- · Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased 140 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by 275 percent during her tenure at Mary-

 Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 25 teams.

Maryland athletics director Debarah A. Yaw was recently awarded the Carl Maddox Spart Management Award by Academy.

- · Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
  - · Significantly improved customer care in every area.

The Maryland Department of Athletics has made remarkable progress under Yow's leadership. Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past seven years, Dr. Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied . . . our vision is to be one of the top 10 programs in the nation consistently . . . we see no reason to settle for less "

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools ... to work hard and work smart ... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and leader, she clearly models these principles,

She was recently singled out by Street & Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the leading athletic administrators in the U.S.

A former basketball coach, she began her coaching career at the high school level in North Carolina before taking over as head women's coach at the University of Kentucky in 1976. She also achieved an outstanding coaching record as head coach at the University of Florida. She later moved into athletic administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina-Greensboro, followed by a highly successful tenure as A.D. at Saint Louis University.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics, management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercolle> giate athletics in the United States.

Reflecting on the status of the Terrapin men's basketball program, Maryland's director of athletics points out, "Our men's basketball program has been a key element in our emergence as a nationally prominent athletics program. Coach Gary Williams, his staff and team have risen to an elite level with our eight consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament, currently one of only nine institutions nationally to have achieved this record. Under Coach Williams' guidance, and with our trip to the NCAA Final Four, the Terrapins have become one of America's elite basketball programs."

Summing up the entire Terrapin athletic program, Yow recently observed,"We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets and our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the Maryland Educational Foundation and M Club members who serve and give liberally. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our successes ... and the basis for our bright future."

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs

Led by associate athletics director Robert Koonce, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for Iong-time Terp Supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in Cole Field House. It features a study center that includes 24 desktop computers, private study cubicles, a tutoring center, classrooms, and individual offices for five professional academic counselors, a director of enrichment programs, an assistant program coordinator, a career counselor and two graduate assistants. In addition, the center's extended site is located in the Gossett Football Team House, and includes office space for three professional counselors and a 16-station desktop computer center.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Prospective student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- · NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops

Maryland Gameplan

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-arthletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 1,000 corporations and businesses across the country. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.

Career & Internship Fair

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search, and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester

ASCDU hosts the Student-Athlete Career & Internship Fair, in which student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow studentathletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career & Internship Fair recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

Terp Choices

Personal growth is fundamental to all ASCDU programs and services. Terp Choices is a program that provides student-athletes the opportunity to identify their fundamental values, develop communication skills, and enhance decision making skills that will enable them to manage their personal health and well-being. Interactive presentations are given by trained student-educators who intend to illustrate to athletic team participants that an individual's choice may affect an entire team. This campuswide program is partially funded by grants from the NCAA and ACC.

Student-Athlete Advisory Council

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of a representative from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area, and nationally.

CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success Program (C.H.A.M.P.S.) and the NCAA LIFE SKILLS Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each studentathlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically, and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

Highlights of the CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- · Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- · Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- · Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- · Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes

Academic Support For Returning Athletes

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to returning its former athletes for degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student is provided with a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth.

STRENGTH& CONDITIONING

In the highly competitive world of collegiate basketball, the off-court preparation of the basketball athlete is a critical component in the on-court success of any Division I program. Kurtis Shultz, Maryland's strength and conditioning coach for men's basketball, believes strongly that a solid offcourt training program can dramatically improve levels of performance, as well as significantly reduce the chance of injury. The benefit of performing structured strength and power training throughout the entire year has allowed the Terps to reach new levels in physical development and, in turn, has resulted in great success on the basketball court.

Shultz's philosophy consists of allowing the players to gain strength, speed and change of direction capabilities through drills that are basketball oriented. He believes that the team must be prepared to run and play the up-tempo style of basketball that is Gary Williams' trademark. Shultz trains the team so that it will be able to run Williams' style.

The members of the men's basketball team have the use of a fully-equipped weight training facility located adjacent to its locker room in Cole Field House. The conveniently located facility has a complete line of free weight equipment as well

Championships Begin With Scholarships

The Terrapin Club is composed of alumni, friends and fans of University of Maryland athletics. Your Terrapin Club contribution provides annual athletic scholarship support to our student-athletes. As a Terrapin Club member, you will enjoy the camaraderie and fellowship unique to this organization. Supporting the Club is a great way to stay connected with the University of Maryland, the state's flagship institution.

Most importantly, you will feel the pride and satisfaction in providing a University of Maryland student-athlete with a quality education.

Your donation is vital. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics operates without significant university funding and receives no state appropriations or tax dollars for operational expenses. We are challenged to fund the 269 full scholarships presently offered and, in the future, to fund the maximum number of scholarships allowed by the NCAA for our 25 sports. We cannot reach this goal without your participation.

Direct gifts are the most common way of contributing. They are made in the form of cash, stock, checks or credit card (Visa, MasterCard, American Express or Discover). For your convenience, a personal checking account can be debited a set amount every month.

In many cases, corporate matching gifts may be used to make your Terrapin Club contribution. Please contact your employer to see if you are eligible for a matching gift program.

able to remain competitive by recruiting high caliber players and maintaining and attracting loyal fans.

To do so, as part of Bold Vision • Bright Future: The Compaign for the University of Maryland, the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics has entered into a historic effort to increase private financial support for the construction and renovation of athletic facilities.

At the center of the plan for our future is a new, state-of-the-art arena and home for Maryland Athletics, the Comcast Center (rendering at right). The Building Partners Campaign is the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' effort to raise $20 million in outright gifts toward the construction of the Comcast Center. Quality facilities attract outstanding student-athletes, great crowds and a tremendous amount of energy and excitement. The competition site for men's and women's basketball, wrestling, volleyball and gymnastics, Comcast Center will be the centerpiece of intercollegiate athletics at the University of Maryland. Our venue will again be the absolute best in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

By participating in the Building Partners Campaign, athletic benefactors have a chance to make a historic impact on the future of the University of Maryland and its athletics program. The Building Partners Campaign offers donors a unique opportunity to permanently link their names to the tradition of Terrapin athletics. Donors who make contributions of $25,000 to $1 million or more are entitled to permanent seat assignments in Comcast Center, in recognition of the substantial investment they have made in Maryland Athletics with their Building Partners Campaign contributions

For more than 50 years, the MEF has provided financial support for Maryland athletics and is an important part of the department's gift-giving program. The vision of the MEF is to raise enough dollars through private gifts to build an endowment capable of permanently funding many of the university's scholarships now being awarded.

What is an endowment? An endowment is a gift in which the principal is held in perpetuity, with only the income used (in part or whole) for scholarships. The MEF invites you to discuss gifts such as cash, securities, real estate, insurance, personal property, life income, gifts of pooled income funds, charitable remainder trusts, charitable gift annuities, wills and bequests. An endowment gift is truly a significant investment in the future of Maryland athletics. Contact Dick Corrigan or Cheryl Harrison at 301-314-7020 if you would like more information.

CLUB

A 78-year Tradition of "Athletes Helping Athletes"

The M Club was founded in 1923 by a group of former University of Maryland athletes led by Dr. H.C. "Curley" Byrd to encourage excellence in athletics. It is one of the oldest and most respected letterwinner clubs in the country with an organization of more than 4,200 former Maryland varsity athletes.

The M Club goals are to help achieve the very best overall academic and athletic program for the 25 varsity teams, to aid the athletes in making positive contributions to the community, to obtain and maintain funds for awards and scholarships and to cultivate social contact and good sportsmanship among the wearers of the "M."

Membership participation, through the payment of annual dues, helps build the scholarship endowment fund and support student-athletes' awards and recognition efforts. Members receive the monthly athletic department publication (TerpTalk) for information about the current teams and news about your former teammates.

In addition, active members receive information about, and discounts for, various M Club activities. Many benefits are intangible, though, including the satisfaction of having lettered at a great university and being a part of a unique and exclusive organization. Stay involved with Maryland athletics.

University of Maryland letterwinners interested in the M Club should call David Diehl at (301) 314-5372 or Dotti Warren at (301) 314-7020, or visit our website at www.umd-mclub.org. Remember the M Club, "Athletes Helping Athletes."

Among The Nation's Best

This is Maryland Athletics

At the University of Maryland, winning is not taken lightly. Like the rich history of all its sports programs, championships are a tradition.

Since the 1950s, Maryland has established itself as one of the most successful athletic programs in the nation. This type of success is no accident; it has been built year-by-year on the achievements of outstanding young men and women who were given the opportunity to excel both on and off the field of play. The victories, the championships and "the national acclaim are all ingredients of the Maryland athletics program. Student-athletes who attend Maryland are part of a program and a university which thrives on tradition and excellence.

Academic Excellence

The University of Maryland considers intercollegiate athletics an integral part of the collegiate experience. Its existence provides an opportunity for students, faculty and alumni to share in the life of intercollegiate athletics.

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to achieve the same standards of excellence in its athletic program as exist within the university's teaching, research and public service programs. The department embraces the concept that the student-athlete is first and foremost a student, possessing academic abilities, personal interests and ambitions comparable to those of the other members of the student body. Since 1983, 88 percent of freshmen scholarship athletes who completed their eligibility at the University of Maryland earned their degrees.

Goals

The great thing about being a Terrapin is the commitment to hard work and dedication. At the University of Maryland, the athletics department is dedicated to supporting a well-balanced Division I program. Athletics director Deborah A. Yow and her dedicated coaches, administrators and staff have re-engineered the department into a responsive and financially sound model — with a clear vision and a determined drive to-ward national prominence.

Athletic Success

National championships, conference championships, national rankings and postseason play are all a part of the University of Maryland experience. The University of Maryland has established itself as one of the nation's elite athletics programs. The Terrapins have won 16 national championships, including a record seven consecutive by the women's lacrosse team (pictured). The Terrapins had plenty of reasons to celebrate when it came to intercollegiate athletics in 2000-01, another finish among the top 15 percent of all schools in the Sears Directors' Cup, which measures the overall ath-measures the overall athletic achievement in men's and women's sports.

Competition

Wearing the Maryland uniform means playing in front of some of the loudest and most supportive fans in the nation. It means playing against the best teams in the country, in the most prestigious conference in the country, the ACC. It means wearing the school colors with pride. It means doing your best in athletics and academics. It is a unique and special feeling being a Terrapin.

Athletes in the Community

From the media spotlight to the community spotlight, Terrapin student-athletes strengthen the ties of the local community by serving as role models. Community service is a key part of the Terrapins' agenda. Student-athletes support many community programs which help to enrich the lives of Maryland youth while teaching the importance of studying hard and saying "no" to drugs and alcohol. Representatives from the University of Maryland athletics department speak their reading and writing skills, and to receive their high school diplomas.

TERPS ONTHE AIR

All of Maryland's games this season — home and away — will be heard live on the Maryland Radio Network. The Terps will be heard on flagship stations WBAL (1090-AM), and WMAL (630-AM), which combine to give Maryland one of the strongest broadcast signals of any collegiate basketball team in the nation. The Terps can be heard from Maine to Florida.

Johnny Holliday will once again serve as the voice of the Terps. He will be joined by color analyst Chris Knoche.

All of Maryland's games can be heard via www.umterps.com.

JOHNNYHOLLIDAY Play-by-Play

Johnny Holliday, who is in his third decade as the Terps' play-by-play announcer, has broadcast more than 600 Mary-land basketball games, 33 NCAA Tournament games and will call his 22nd ACC Tournament this season.

Holliday, now in his 23rd year as the "Voice of the Terps," is considered one of the finest play-by-play announcers in the nation. In addition to calling the action for the Maryland basketball and football teams, Holliday also hosts the award-winning Gary Williams and Ralph Friedgen television shows. As the Terps' director of broadcasting, he handles a myriad of speaking duties within the athletic department, ranging from banquets, to Terrapin Club and M Club functions and golf outings.

His long list of credits includes ABC's coverage of every Olympics since 1984. In addition, he has covered championship boxing, the Masters and the Liberty and Aloha bowls.

Holliday's announcing career allows him to lay claim as Washington's most versatile broadcaster, and among the best nationally. Whether it be in radio, where he was named America's No. 1 disc jockey during his rock'n roll deejay days, to his public address duties with the Cleveland Browns, Oakland Raiders, and Golden State Warriors, to his work in Washington television for the Senators and Bullets, Holliday makes a complicated business look easy.

He brings that ease to the Maryland coach's television shows on Comcast SportsNet, the region's premier sports channel. He is among the pioneer broadcasters for the sport of women's basketball, earning a Distinguished Service Award from ACC women's basketball officials for his work on that league's women's basketball telecasts.

A native of Miami, Fla., Holliday began his broadcasting career in Perry, Ga., and through the years has worked in four of the nation's prime radio markets: Cleveland, New York, San Francisco and Washington. At one time, he was recognized as America's No. 1 disc jockey. He is a member of the Rock 'N Roll

In addition to his broadcasting accomplishments, he also has been extremely successful raising money for charity. Washingtonian magazine honored him as a Washingtonian of the

 $The \textit{Maryland radio crewin action: statistician Brett Bessell, analyst \textit{Chris Knoche, play-by-play announcer Johnny Holliday and engineer Steve Stefany.}$

Year for his many civic activities. His basketball and softball teams, the Radio Wonders, have raised more than $1 million for charity. He is involved in Special Olympics, Catholic Charities, Operation Smile, and the Boy Scouts of America. He has served as television host for the Easter Seals, Muscular Dystrophy, March of Dimes and Leukemia telethons.

Four years ago he was honored by the Greater Washington, D. C.Chapter of Operation Smile with its 1998 Smile Award for his outstanding service to the community. In 1995, he was the recipient of the University of Maryland "M Club" Distinguished Citizen Award. He is an honorary member of the university's chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa.

Holliday and his wife, Mary Claire, are the proud parents of three daughters: Kellie, a physician who resides in Bel Air, Md., with her husband Steve, who also is a physician; Tracie, a neo-natal nurse at Shady Grove Hospital who resides in Potomac, Md., with her husband Chris, an attorney; and Moira, who recently graduated from St. Joseph's University in Philadelphia

CHRISKNOCHE

Color Analyst

Chris Knoche, a former player and head coach at American University who has worked in radio and television for the past three years, is in his third season as the color analyst for the Terp men's basketball radio broadcasts.

Knoche spent 17 seasons at American, playing the 1979-80 and '80-81 seasons under current Terp coach Gary Williams before moving into an assistant coaching position and later serving seven seasons (1991-97) as the Eagles' head coach. Prior to joining Maryland's broadcast crew, he worked 40-50 games each of the previous two seasons as a color commentator, including stints on the lvy League Game of the Week television package and the Big Ten Game of the Week on Westwood One/CBS Radio. He also has worked telecasts for ESPN and CSN in addition to doing radio and television analysis for George Mason University games.

"Chris Knoche brings an outstanding background as a player, coach and fan to our basketball broadcasts," said Williams, the Terps' 13th-year head coach. "Being able to work with Johnny Holliday, Chris provides the opportunity for Maryland fans to listen to someone who has very good experience as a color commentator. More important, he is someone who has a great feel for the game of basketball. I have known Chris as a player and a coach for more than 20 years. He is an exciting addition to our basketball program."

Before Your Visit

Game credentials are issued to accredited members of the media only. Working space in the press area of Cole is limited and seats are expressly reserved for those working on deadline, with no exceptions. Children and other nonworkers are not allowed in the press area. Credentials should be ordered at least one week before each game and are issued through the Media Relations Office. Requests for credentials should be made in writing and on letterhead stationery to Dave Haglund or Kevin Messenger in the Media Relations office. If it is convenient for you to FAX your request, you are welcome to do so. The FAX number in the Media Relations Office is (301) 314-9094. These requests are accepted from Sports Editors and Sports Directors only. The credential requests should be sent so that they reach the Media Relations Office at least one week prior to the desired games. They are carefully screened to insure good working conditions in the press area. When time permits, a working press pass and a parking pass will be mailed. When this is not possible, they will be left at the Press Will Call entrance at the back door of Cole. The back door of Cole directly faces Byrd Sta-

Photographers, too, should make their credential requests at least one week in advance. Credential requests for photography passes are welcome. Photographers should note that the Cole Field House lights are color balanced for daylight. An exposure setting of 250 at f2.8 has been found to work well with ASA 400 film and normal processing. Strobe lights may be installed in Cole, but arrangements must be made though the Media Relations Office two weeks in advance. Space for strobe lights is available on a first come, first served basis.

Game Day Press Parking is located on the Byrd Stadium promenade, under the Tyser lower press box. The promenade is best accessed from the Stadium Drive entrance to campus. Access is via press parking pass only and is available on an extremely limited basis.

Media Work Room

A press work room is available for working media only on the court level of Cole. The media workroom is located just off of the basketball court to your left. A limited number of long distance phone lines are available on a first-come, first serve basis and require a credit card for billing.

The room opens well before game time and media representatives are welcome to make themselves comfortable. Food service is available to the media in the press room as a pre-game meal is served buffet style. A halftime and post-game beverage service is also available. The pre-game buffet is available one hour before tip-off.

Fax Machine Service

Fax machine service will be available. If you need any information faxed to your newspaper, please submit your request to a member of the Media Relations Office.
